INTRODUCTION

This Student Handbook provides an easy reference for policies and procedures that govern student conduct and other aspects of campus life at Suffolk University. Also contained in this handbook is important information that the University is obligated by law to provide to its students each year.

Additional documents that should be consulted for other policy information are the academic catalog, the course bulletin, and the guide to residence hall living.

This handbook is prepared and produced by The Office of Student Affairs. Questions should be directed to staff in that office, located at 73 Tremont Street, 12th Floor, 617.573.8239, TDD 617.557.4875.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE NOTICE

The rules, regulations, policies, fees and other charges, courses of study, and academic requirements that appear in this handbook were in effect at the time of its publication. Like everything else in this handbook, they are published for informational purposes only, and they do not constitute a contract between the University and any student, applicant for admission, or other persons.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Student Handbook serves as your introduction to Suffolk University’s student life, facilities, services, and policies. It is updated annually. All students are encouraged to use this book as a reference guide to the various resources on campus.

I hope this handbook will make it easier for you to find what you are looking for in as little time as possible. The handbook provides general information and gives the location of the appropriate offices where you can obtain more complete information. Many people throughout the University are willing to assist you with problems or questions.

If you have any suggestions on how we might improve this handbook for future students, please do not hesitate to contact the Student Affairs Office with your ideas.

Welcome to Suffolk. I hope you have an exciting and rewarding year.

Nancy C. Stoll, Ed. D.

MESSAGE FROM THE STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to Suffolk University on behalf of your Student Government Association.

You are attending one of the most unique universities in the city of Boston. Suffolk’s distinct location on Beacon Hill gives us unparalleled access to the seat of government in Massachusetts as well as easy access to the quaint neighborhoods that surround the area, such as the North End and the Theater district. Immerse yourself in the culture of the city and enjoy all that it has to offer; it will truly enrich your time here at Suffolk.

The Suffolk community is full of endless opportunities for you to get involved. Over 70 student organizations on campus cover a wide variety of interests, including Suffolk Students for Smile Train, the Black Student Union, the Program Council, the Rainbow Alliance, the Seriously Bent Improv Comedy Troupe, and many more. Throughout your college career, you will find an abundance of opportunities to get involved. I strongly encourage you to do so this year; there is no time like the present. Your co-curricular involvement is an integral part of college life and will help to round out your education.

Suffolk’s academic programs will also offer you many opportunities. The study abroad program allows you to explore different parts of the world while maintaining academic standing and earning credits. Whether you want to spend a semester in London or two weeks in Uganda, there are dozens of places you can explore through this program. Here in Boston, the classes you take will help prepare you for your next step in life. Suffolk’s professors are highly skilled in their fields and go the extra mile for each and every one of us.

I would like to wish you well as you journey through this academic year. Remember all the opportunities both in and out of the classroom that await you, and take full advantage of as many of them as you can. If I can be of any assistance to you throughout the year, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best of luck and welcome to Suffolk University!

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY HISTORY

Suffolk University grew from humble beginnings in the Roxbury parlor of Gleason L. Archer, a young lawyer who had worked his way through high school and college. A chance meeting brought him together with a benefactor who loaned him money for his law school studies, asking only that Archer pass along the favor.

In 1906, Archer opened the Suffolk School of Law, a night school established to “serve ambitious young men who are obliged to work for a living while studying law.” He believed that the growing waves of immigrants who came to America’s shores should be given the same opportunities that had been the privilege of the wealthy few.

In 1907, Archer moved the school into his downtown law offices, and a year later, machinist and Archer student Roland E. Brown passed the bar. News of Brown’s achievement led to a boost in registration, so Archer gave up his law practice to devote himself full time to the Suffolk School of Law.

By 1930, Archer had built Suffolk into one of the largest law schools in the country. At the time, fewer than 2 percent of Americans could afford to attend college, so Archer decided to create “a great evening university” that working people could afford. The College of Arts and Sciences was founded in 1934, and the Sawyer Business School—then known as the College of Business Administration—followed in 1937.

That same year, the three academic units were incorporated as Suffolk University. Over the years, the University shifted away from its night-school format to incorporate a range of full- and part-time programs and fully evolved into the urban University students attend today.

THE UNIVERSITY TODAY

Gleason Archer’s commitment to offering opportunity to all continues to inspire the mission of the University to this day. In 1995, the University’s first international campus was opened in Madrid, Spain. A second international campus, in Dakar, Senegal, opened in 1999. Satellite campuses also have been established in Massachusetts at Cape Cod Community College, Merrimack College, and Dean College.

Today, the College of Arts and Sciences consists of 19 academic departments, offering more than 70 programs of specialized study, including master’s and doctoral programs. The New England School of Art and Design became part of the College in 1996.

The Sawyer Business School’s undergraduate and graduate programs emphasize global business practice. Nine undergraduate majors are offered, and graduate programs lead to more than a dozen advanced degrees, including joint degree programs with the Law School. The Business School also offers an online MBA program with four areas of concentration.

The Law School offers Juris Doctor and Master of Laws degrees, with a choice of several academic concentrations.

Suffolk students today hail from across the nation and around the world. The one-time commuter school now has three residence halls, allowing resident students to fully realize the academic and cultural promise of their downtown surroundings.

CAMPUS LOCATION

The University’s Beacon Hill campus is only a short ride by public or private transportation from the Museum of Fine Arts, Harvard’s Peabody and Fogg museums, the Prudential Center, and the Boston Public Library, and within walking distance of the historic Freedom Trail. Within Boston, there are few places more steeped in tradition, history, and quaint beauty than Beacon Hill. For more than 100 years, Suffolk University has stood proudly as an integral part of the Hill. Many faculty, students, and friends of Suffolk University make Beacon Hill and Downtown Crossing their home.

The University’s relations with its neighbors have always been cordial, but this is a two-way proposition, for the people of Beacon Hill have always accepted the University as friends and welcome neighbors, and neighbors in Downtown Crossing have been receptive to students now residing in their neighborhood. The maintenance of good relations with the people of Boston is the duty of every student at the University. It is essential that students respect the privacy of persons and property in our densely occupied neighborhood so that the residential character of the area can be preserved.

UNIVERSITY MISSION STATEMENT

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located on historic Beacon Hill in Boston, with three other Massachusetts locations as well as international campuses in Madrid, Spain, and Dakar, Senegal. Suffolk University’s mission is to provide quality education at a reasonable cost for students of all ages and backgrounds, with strong emphasis on diversity. The University is committed to educating students to become lifelong learners as well as professionals who lead and serve the communities in which they live and work. The University seeks to prepare students to live in a diverse, global society, appreciating the richness of various cultures.

The University accomplishes its mission by providing educational opportunities through undergraduate study, graduate study, and professional training. Suffolk University is a teaching University, where research and scholarship are interrelated with the unique character of each academic discipline. It does so by means of courses that provide theoretical, experiential, and practical dimensions. The University supports and encourages diversity in a challenging, supportive environment for motivated and capable students from various backgrounds and cultures.

UNIVERSITY DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Suffolk University has given high priority to creating a truly multicultural, multiracial, gender-balanced community receptive to cultural diversity. The future vitality of Suffolk and other urban universities depends on their ability to be responsive to and provide a welcoming climate for people of many cultures. As part of Suffolk’s efforts to reach this goal, the University strives to create and actively promote a welcoming and supportive environment in order to recruit, hire, retain, and support a culturally diverse faculty and staff. University policies and procedures concerning faculty and employee development are structured to encourage such diversity. Likewise, the University strives to actively recruit and retain a widely diverse student body. Faculty and employees are encouraged to actively promote a diverse and welcoming environment for all. Efforts to achieve those goals will be favorably considered in evaluations.

The University is also committed to creating and maintaining educational curricula in each of its schools that incorporate the values of a multicultural and diverse community and that reflect the pluralism of the United States and the global society.

This commitment is congruent with the University’s stated mission to prepare and educate men and women to be future leaders and citizens who can function effectively in an evolving, pluralistic, and increasingly diverse society.

The University further seeks to ensure that student support services, academic support services, and co-curricular programs at Suffolk are sufficiently diverse to meet the needs of a multicultural student body. Alumni activities and community networks will also be utilized to promote the goals of diversity.

Academic Information
ACADEMIC ADVISING
Matriculating freshmen and transfer students are assigned a faculty advisor, based on chosen major, shortly after the beginning of the term. Students are required to confer with their faculty advisors at least once a semester to complete registration forms and review academic programs. Students wishing to change majors or academic advisors should initiate the process by notifying the faculty advisor of their intent.

College of Arts and Sciences
Before that time, College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) students seeking academic advice should go to their academic major department for assistance or seek counsel with their Seminar for Freshmen instructor, who also serves as a first-year advisor. CAS students who have open or undecided majors should consult with their Seminar for Freshmen instructor or seek assistance from the CAS Office of Undergraduate Advising (Fenton 104, 617.305.1977). Students confused about their advising assignments should contact this office at the earliest opportunity.

Sawyer Business School
New students seeking assistance (until assigned an advisor) should visit the Undergraduate Programs Office on the 8th floor of the Sawyer Building or call 617.573.8345. All Business School students must meet with an advisor at least once per term for registration. We highly recommend additional meetings with your advisor to develop a strong student/advisor relationship and to ensure you meet your academic goals. After your first year with the Business School, you will be assigned a faculty advisor who specializes in your selected major to continue your program planning.

GRADE GRIEVANCES AND ACADEMIC COMPLAINTS
A student who believes that an academic evaluation has no basis in fact or is arbitrary should bring this to the attention of the instructor for resolution, preferably within the semester the course is taken. If the complaint is not resolved with the instructor, the student may then bring the complaint to the department chairperson. If the complaint is not resolved equitably after meeting with the department chair, the student may raise the issue with the dean of students, or designee. Written requests for review by the dean of students, or designee, must be submitted no later than the end of the semester following the semester in which the course was taken. Requests for review by the dean of students, or designee, for courses taken during summer sessions must be submitted by the end of the following fall semester. Complaints from graduating students must be received by the dean of students, or designee, at least two weeks prior to graduation. The dean of students, or designee, will make a recommendation to the academic dean of the college, or designee, in which the course is offered, whose decision shall be final.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS
For complete regulations covering academic matters, please refer to the 2010–2011 Academic Catalog.

ACADEMIC STANDING FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS
Undergraduate student performance is monitored by the Academic Standing Committee of each school or college once a semester. The Committee will notify in writing any student who is not making satisfactory progress toward completion of a degree, and will take whatever remedial action it deems warranted (dismissal, probation, or warning).

Please note that a student who is a financial aid applicant or recipient and is placed on academic probation is required to contact the Office of Financial Aid immediately. Financial aid could be affected, as federal regulations stipulate that all federal aid recipients must make satisfactory progress.

At any point during the academic year, a student may be dismissed from Suffolk University if, in the opinion of the Academic Standing Committee, his/her academic record is unsatisfactory.

To seek re-entry, candidates must submit a formal petition to the Academic Standing Committee of the school or college that dismissed them. This petition should be a typed letter containing the following minimum information: name, address, and telephone number of the petitioner; the date of the last semester in attendance at the University; a brief explanation of the circumstances that led to dismissal, including any documentation that could assist the Committee in better understanding the petitioner’s situation; and a plan indicating which remedial actions are being implemented to correct past deficiencies and ensure satisfactory progress in the future.

College of Arts and Sciences Petitioners: The petition and a check or money order for $20 should be made out to Suffolk University and hand delivered to the Office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The filing deadline for petitioning is 15 working days prior to the start of the semester.

Sawyer Business School Petitioners: The petition and a check or money order for $20 should be made out to Suffolk University and hand delivered to the Office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The filing deadline for petitioning is 15 working days prior to the start of the semester.

Academic Standing and Co-Curricular Activities
No student on academic probation shall be eligible to compete in athletics or hold an elected or appointed office. A student on academic probation may continue his/her membership in extracurricular activities such as clubs or organizations, and may write for, but not be a member of, the staff of campus publications. In the event his/her GPA does not improve, the dean of the college or the Academic Standing Committee may require the student to limit extracurricular activities as a condition for continuation at Suffolk.

In order to hold elected or appointed office in a club or organization, a student must have a GPA of 2.3 or higher. Some positions may require a student to have a GPA higher than 2.3.

ATTENDANCE AND ABSENCES
Requirements for attendance and class participation are established by the instructor in each course. Instructors are responsible for informing students about their attendance policy at the beginning of each course.

Students are responsible for all material and information covered in classes missed. Students should contact the Student Affairs Office at 617.573.8239 or at studentaffairs@suffolk.edu if they expect to be absent for a period of a week or more.

Jury Duty
According to the Office of the Jury Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, “every US citizen 17 years of age or older who is a Massachusetts resident or an inhabitant for more than 50 percent of the time is eligible to serve as a juror. If you are a resident of another state but a student at a Massachusetts college or university, you are an inhabitant for more than 50 percent of the year and, therefore, eligible to serve as a juror in Massachusetts.”

It is not unusual for students residing in Suffolk County or in other Massachusetts counties to be summoned to serve as trial jurors. Jury service, on a short-term basis, can provide students with a good opportunity to fulfill one of their important responsibilities as members of the community. Suffolk University supports students in their fulfillment of this civic duty.

Students should carefully read all materials they receive with their summons to service. They contain helpful information on confirming, postponing, rescheduling, or relocating service and address many of the most frequently asked questions. Jury duty

In emergencies created by winter storms, unusual traffic jams, or breakdowns in public transportation, a faculty member may be delayed in getting to class. If, in the case of an emergency, an instructor comes late to class, it is expected that students will wait for a minimum of 15 minutes after the normal time for starting the class. In the absence of any message to the class concerning probable arrival time, members of the class are not required to wait longer than 15 minutes.

CANCELLATION OF CLASSES
In case of snow, other inclement weather, or other emergency closings, Suffolk University will notify students, faculty, and staff about school cancellations or delays according to the following protocols:

1. When classes are delayed or cancelled, the cancellation will apply to the entire University, including all three schools—the College of Arts and Sciences (including NESADSU), the Business School, and the Law School—as well as the libraries and all other University activities (student affairs, performances, etc.). To determine whether athletic events will be held, please consult the Athletics Department’s Web site at www.suffolk.edu/athletics or call 617.573.8379.

2. Announcements of University delays and closings will be communicated via the emergency alert system (students must provide their contact information on the Office of the Jury Commissioner by calling 800.843.5879. Additional information may be viewed online at www.masjjury.com.

3. In the event of a delayed opening, classes will begin and administrative offices will open at 10am. Classes scheduled prior to 10am will be cancelled for the day.

4. For an afternoon closing, the standard closing time will be 4pm (no classes will be held after 4pm), unless weather conditions require earlier closing.

5. Weekend and holiday closings or delays, including the libraries, will be handled in the same manner as during the regular school week.

UNDERGRADUATE ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY
Cheating on examinations, plagiarism, improper acknowledgement of sources in essays or research papers, and/or the use of a single essay or paper in more than one course without the permission of the instructor constitute unacceptable academic conduct. It is dishonest to buy, sell, download, borrow, or lend papers. It is unacceptable to make up or falsify data that are supposed to be collected from survey, experimentation, or other means. Work that is represented as yours should be your own; if not, the source should be properly identified. This applies to lab reports, computer projects, and group projects as well as to individual assignments. Each instructor should fully explain the requirements of the course and the applicable policies regarding academic dishonesty.

Students alleged to have violated this policy will be referred to the dean of students, or designee, and are subject to sanctions including a 0 on the assignment, grade of F in the course, suspension, enforced withdrawal from the course, or dismissal from the University or appropriate lesser penalties if warranted by the circumstances.

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS
To learn about foreign study opportunities, visit the Office of Study Abroad Programs Web site at www.suffolk.edu/studyabroad, call 617.573.8072, send an e-mail to studyabroad@suffolk.edu, or visit the office in person at the Center for International Education at 73 Tremont Street, 6th floor.

Requirements
In order to participate in Suffolk University’s study abroad programs, students must:

• Be enrolled in an accredited university or college.

• Have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher. Some programs may require a higher GPA; please consult the study abroad office for the GPA requirements for your particular program. If your GPA is slightly lower than required, your application will be reviewed on an individual basis.

• Have completed at least 45 credit hours at Suffolk University. Students who have completed less than 30 credit hours are only eligible to study abroad at Suffolk University’s overseas campuses in Madrid, Spain, and Dakar, Senegal. If you are within 30 credits of graduation, you will only be eligible to study abroad at Suffolk University’s overseas campuses in Madrid, Spain, and Dakar, Senegal, unless you receive written consent from the dean of your college.

• Not have transferred to Suffolk University with more than 61 credit hours.

• Submit a completed application with the required documents signed by yourself, your advisor, and the dean of your college.
Choosing Time Abroad – Semester or Academic Year?
You may choose to study abroad for a semester or for a full academic year. However, the decision to stay longer than one semester needs to be made prior to your departure from the United States, and the necessary documents must be submitted. If you decide to study abroad for longer than stated in your signed acknowledgement form, you will not receive any credit for the courses you take. All students must obtain written approval from their academic advisor and dean of their college for all the courses they wish to receive credit for prior to their departure. There are no exceptions to this rule!

Transfer of Credit and Records
Ideally, your study abroad program will allow you to take courses abroad that will fulfill your graduation requirements at your home university. Because Suffolk University’s study abroad programs are only affiliated with recognized universities, it is easy to arrange for your credits to transfer back to your home university. In order to ensure a smooth transition of credit hours, as noted above, you must receive approval for your courses prior to your study abroad experience. These signatures are required on the course authorization sheet within the application. Your application will not be reviewed prior to receiving these and other required signatures. In order for credits to transfer back to your home university, the course you select/take must meet the same requirements as a similar course offered at your home institution. To determine the transferability of a course, your academic advisor and the dean of your college will want to see a description of the courses you intend to take. To obtain written descriptions of these courses, please contact the Office of Study Abroad Programs.

Suffolk University students must obtain a grade of C or higher in every course for credits to transfer back. Prior to departure, you might want to check with your home institution regarding the required grade for obtaining transfer credits. You should expect this process to take about two months. It is not recommended that you study abroad during your final semester as this may have a direct effect on your graduation requirements. Please keep in mind that your academic records will not be released if you have any outstanding financial obligations to the host institution or to Suffolk University.

Pre-Departure Orientation
All students accepted into Suffolk University’s study abroad programs are required to attend the Pre-Departure Orientation. The date, time, and location will be mailed to students after they have made their nonrefundable deposit. If students cannot attend the Pre-Departure Orientation due to interstate distance, other arrangements will be made.

Code of Conduct When Studying Abroad
Study abroad students are expected to follow the Suffolk University Community Standards, as outlined in this student handbook. Any departure from these standards that can be shown to be injurious to the study abroad program’s pursuit of its normal activities may be subject to appropriate disciplinary actions, which could include dismissal from the program.

A student studying through Suffolk University also assumes an important personal obligation to conduct himself/herself in a manner that is compatible with local laws and regulations. Also, the student is responsible to know and comply with all rules and expectations of the study abroad program and/or host institution regarding student conduct.

The Suffolk student’s conduct abroad may be subject to disciplinary proceedings at Suffolk University if his/her alleged conduct violates Suffolk University’s expectations for student conduct and academic responsibility. The following disciplinary actions may be taken:

1. The Office of Study Abroad Programs will notify the appropriate dean(s) and Student Affairs Office of the alleged offense. These offices will decide together the disciplinary action for the student, which can range from financial implications, holding of transcript, or dismissal from the study abroad program with no credits received and no refund of tuition or other program-related costs or other sanction(s).
2. The student and the parents of the student will be asked to attend a meeting with the above-stated offices to discuss the alleged offense. After a decision is made, another meeting will be held, if deemed necessary. If the student participates in illegal activity while abroad, he/she will be solely responsible for any legal action that may be taken against him/her by local governments and authorities, for which neither Suffolk University nor the US government or agencies may provide assistance. The University/host institution may terminate the student’s participation in the study abroad program if the student engages in action endangering himself/herself or others or jeopardizing the success of the study abroad program.

Payment Plan
Students who enroll in Suffolk University study abroad programs and wish to receive credit toward their degree will pay Suffolk University the full cost of tuition. Room and board costs are not included in the tuition for the program and vary from program to program. The payment for room and board is paid directly to the program/host institution. To find out the cost of room and board for your program, please contact the Office of Study Abroad Programs. For some students, their financial aid package may cover the cost for them to study abroad.

Cancellation Policy
Because Suffolk University makes financial commitments on students’ behalf well in advance of the program start date, refunds can only be made in accordance with the following terms:

1. A student who withdraws voluntarily will receive the following refund of fees paid:
   A. Withdrawing more than 30 days prior to program commencement will result in a refund of all fees paid less the application fee (non-Suffolk students) and the program deposit
   B. Withdrawing less than 30 days prior to program commencement will result in no refund.

All voluntary cancellations must be made in writing to the Office of Study Abroad Programs at Suffolk University.

II. In cases where Suffolk University is forced to cancel or suspend a program or in the case of serious documented illness, the following refund policies will be applied:
   A. If the program has not yet begun, all funds will be refunded, less the application fee (non-Suffolk students)
   B. If the program has begun, Suffolk University will refund any portion of the student’s expense (excluding travel expenses) that has not been used or committed, less the application fee (non-Suffolk students).

Cancellation or suspension of any program will result if (1) the United States Department of State issues a travel warning advising US citizens not to travel to a particular country or, if in the country, to leave, or (2) Suffolk University deems it necessary to cancel or suspend the program for any other reason.

Any serious illness that causes a student to withdraw must be documented by a licensed US physician with notification sent to the study abroad office at Suffolk University.
Travel Insurance
Since travel expenses (including airplane tickets and other means of travel) are not paid to Suffolk, nor is Suffolk responsible for paying these fees, Suffolk University strongly recommends purchasing travel insurance. This will protect you if cancellation or suspension of any program results from the United States Department of State issuing a travel warning advising US citizens not to travel to a particular country or, if in the country, to leave. Please contact your travel agent for more details.

Safety Issues
Safety is often a concern to students and their families when deciding to study abroad. Suffolk University is an official member of the SAFETI Consortium, which gives helpful information on safety issues and answers many questions you and your family may have about studying in another country. To learn more, go to www.globaled.us/safety. If you have any additional questions about your safety or any of our policies and procedures, please feel free to contact the Office of Study Abroad Programs.

READING DAYS
Reading days are set aside each semester between the end of classes and the beginning of final exams to provide students with specific time to prepare for exams.

WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES, LEAVE OF ABSENCE, AND WITHDRAWING FROM THE UNIVERSITY

Withdrawing from All Courses Prior to the First Day of Classes
Students who wish to withdraw from all courses prior to the start of the semester must contact the Student Affairs Office and submit a Leave of Absence form or a Withdrawal form. The Student Affairs Office can be reached at 617.573.8239 and is located at 73 Tremont Street, 12th Floor. Leave of Absence forms and Withdrawal forms are also available online at www.suffolk.edu/campuslife/23014.html.

Leave of Absence
A leave of absence may be granted for two consecutive or two non-consecutive semesters (excluding summers). A student applying for a leave of absence must give a definite date for return. Students on leave will be required to meet the degree requirements under which they were admitted or appropriate equivalences. A leave of absence may not be used for the purpose of taking academic courses at another institution with the intent of transferring the credits to Suffolk University.

Students requesting a leave of absence for military duty are permitted to extend their leaves of absence beyond two non-consecutive semesters.

After the Student Affairs Office has received a leave of absence form, the following will occur:
- The leave of absence request will be reviewed and approved or denied.
- If the request is denied, other options will be discussed with the student.
- If the request is approved, the student will receive a letter from the Student Affairs Office with the anticipated date of return and any specific issues the student must resolve before return.
- During a leave of absence, the student will continue to have an active e-mail account with the University. It is the student's responsibility to check periodically for important University information, including registration and financial aid deadlines.
- The student will receive information from the Registrar's Office via e-mail concerning pre-registration for the semester the student is expected to return.

When the student is ready to return from a leave of absence, the student is encouraged to contact the advising center of either the Sawyer Business School or the College of Arts and Sciences, depending on the student’s academic program, to review the student’s program evaluation. The student will not be able to participate in pre-registration without the approval of the advising center. If the student decides to return to Suffolk after preregistration has occurred, the student must contact the appropriate advising center below for advising and registration assistance and also log on to the student’s MySuffolk account to review any personal restrictions preventing registration.

Sawyer Business School: 617.573.8345
College of Arts and Sciences: 617.305.5102

Withdrawing from the University
Students who are transferring to another institution or who do not plan to return to Suffolk University in the future must submit a Withdrawal form. The University's refund policy will determine refunds. Withdrawal forms are available online at www.suffolk.edu/campuslife/23014.html.

Withdrawing from Classes Once the Fall or Spring Semester Has Begun

1. If a student withdraws from all courses, he/she will be placed on a leave of absence for the semester.
2. Between Week 1 and Week 4 (actual dates are published at the Registrar's Office), a student may drop a course(s) online by logging onto MySuffolk. The course(s) will be removed from the student’s transcript.
3. Between Week 5 and Week 9 (actual dates are published at the Registrar's Office), a student may withdraw from a course(s) online by logging onto MySuffolk. The course(s) will remain on the student’s transcript, and a W (for Withdrawal) will be entered on the transcript. A W does not impact a student's GPA, but it may impact a student's financial aid status. The student is encouraged to speak with Student Financial Services to discuss the financial aid implications of withdrawing from a course.
4. After Week 9 (the actual date is published at the registrar’s office), a student may NOT withdraw from a course, with the following exceptions:
   a. A student may withdraw from all courses at any time in the semester by contacting the Student Affairs Office. The student will be automatically placed on a leave of absence for the semester only. If the request is made between Week 1 and Week 4, all courses will be removed from the student’s transcript. If the request is made between Week 5 and Week 13, the courses will remain on the student’s transcript, and a W (for Withdrawal) will be entered on the transcript.
   b. A student may petition for an individual Late Course Withdrawal from a course for extenuating medical or personal circumstances. This request must be submitted immediately with complete documentation so the petition can be considered prior to the close of the semester in which the course is taken. The student must submit a Late
Issues to Consider

There are a number of issues students must consider prior to taking a leave of absence, withdrawing from the University, or dropping or withdrawing from a course. Students must contact the appropriate office below if they answer “yes” to any of the following questions:

- Is the student receiving financial aid from Suffolk University (grants, loans, work study, etc.)?

Before making a decision to take a leave of absence, the student should be aware of the financial implications. Federal laws are in place that may require the Student Financial Services office to return all, or a portion of, the student’s financial aid to the government, donors, etc. Charges that were covered by financial aid would then become the student’s responsibility. In some cases, the student could also be ineligible for financial aid in the future.

Occasionally, satisfactory academic progress requirements may be waived if mitigating circumstances prevented the student from meeting the requirements. Such circumstances would include illness of the student or death or illness of a family member. All requests for a waiver of the requirements must be submitted in writing to the director of Student Financial Services. The request must outline the reason for the waiver and should include any supporting documentation. The director of Student Financial Services will determine what action will be taken.

If yes, the student must contact Student Financial Services at finaid@suffolk.edu or 617.573.8470.

- Does the student owe Suffolk University money for tuition or other fees?

If yes, the student must contact Student Accounts at 617.573.8407.

- Is the student enrolled in Suffolk University’s student health insurance program? If the student purchased the Suffolk University health insurance plan, the policy will not be impacted by the student’s leave of absence or withdrawal. The student will be covered through the end date of the Suffolk policy.

If yes, the student must contact Health and Wellness Services at 617.573.8260.

- Is the student living in a Suffolk University residence hall? In order to live in campus housing, students must be registered for 12 or more credits. Students who drop below 12 credits must meet with the dean of students.

If yes, the student must contact Residence Life and Summer Programs at 617.305.2500.

- Is the student an international student with F-1 (I-20) or J-1 (DS-2019) status?

If yes, the student must contact International Advising at 617.573.8154.

Requesting a Late Course Withdrawal for a Course Taken in a Previous Semester

Requests for late course withdrawals during the fiscal year following the semester in which courses are taken will be considered only for extenuating medical or personal circumstances. The student must submit a Late Course Withdrawal form to the Student Affairs Office along with appropriate medical or personal documentation. If documentation is not submitted, the petition will not be considered. The student is encouraged to meet with the dean of students, or designee, if possible. The dean of students, or designee, will review the request and will approve or deny the petition.

The student may appeal the dean’s decision. The appeal will be reviewed by the Late Course Withdrawal Appeals Committee, which may include representatives from Student Affairs, the Office of the Registrar, Student Accounts, Student Financial Services, Counseling, Disability Services, Health and Wellness Services, and a representative from the student’s school or college. The decision of the Appeals Committee is final.

INCOMPLETE GRADES

Students on a leave of absence who have previous incomplete (I) grades must finish those incomplete (I) grades by the date specified. After one (1) year, any incomplete (I) grades negotiated with professors will turn into a failing grade (F*), with the exception of College of Arts and Sciences graduate courses. Students may not request a late course withdrawal once an incomplete (I) grade has turned to F*. A leave of absence does not extend a deadline for an incomplete (I) grade. Please read the incomplete (I) grade policy located in the Academic Catalog for further details.

TUITION LIABILITY

Tuition liability is based on the date that the Withdrawal form is received by the Student Affairs Office or the Drop form is received by the Office of the Registrar. Refer to the information listed below for Suffolk University’s prorated withdrawal policy.

If the drop occurs or your Withdrawal form is received and approved by the Student Affairs Office:
- Through the second week of classes: 0%
- Third week of classes: 50%
- Fourth week of classes: 75%
- After the fourth week of classes: 100%

For special short courses, workshops, and institutes, please visit www.suffolk.edu/bursar for withdrawal dates. International students holding F-1 or J-1 immigration status must also visit the immigration services staff at the Center for International Education to discuss the immigration aspects of withdrawal from the University. Generally, students cannot remain in the United States after their withdrawal.
WITHDRAWAL, LEAVE OF ABSENCE, OR DROP REFUND POLICY
Tuition liability is assessed according to the date that the Leave of Absence/Withdrawal form is received by the Student Affairs Office or the Drop form is received by the Office of the Registrar.

Non-attendance does not constitute official withdrawal or dropping of a course. Tuition is not refunded after the fourth week of class. Reasonable collection costs, including attorney fees, will be added to delinquent accounts. All tuition charges are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees. Any such change may be applicable to students already enrolled in the University. For Executive MBA students and students enrolled in master of finance courses, workshops, and seminars, please consult www.suffolk.edu/bursar or the Office of the Bursar for your liability schedule.

RETURN OF STATE FUNDS
The Massachusetts state financial aid programs follow the same refund policy as the Title IV programs. However, if a student has a tuition liability due to the return of Title IV funds, state funds may be retained to cover such liability.

REFUND POLICY FOR FINANCIAL AID RECIPIENTS/RETURN OF TITLE IV FUNDS (FEDERAL FUNDS)
When a student officially withdraws from the University, federal regulations require the institution to prorate the financial aid awarded based on the percentage of the term completed. Once 60% of the term is over, the student is eligible to receive 100% of his/her aid awarded. If a student does not officially withdraw from the University and fails to complete all classes, the student is eligible for only 50% of aid awarded. However, the student may be charged 100% of all applicable tuition costs, fees, etc. Questions on applicable charges should be directed to the Office of the Bursar.

In accordance with federal regulations, whenever a student’s withdrawal requires the return of financial aid, the funds will be distributed in the following order:

1. Unsubsidized Federal Stafford/Direct
2. Subsidized Federal Stafford/Direct
3. Federal PLUS/Direct
4. Federal Perkins
5. Federal Pell Grant
6. Federal SEOG
7. Other Title IV programs
STUDENT E-MAIL COMMUNICATION POLICY
An official Suffolk University e-mail address is assigned and required for all students. The University-assigned e-mail address is an official means of communication with students. Students are expected to read e-mail received at their Suffolk University-assigned e-mail address on a regular basis.

Students are responsible for all information, including all attachments, sent to their University-assigned e-mail address. Students may elect to forward e-mail sent to their University e-mail address to another e-mail address; however, students do so at their own risk and remain responsible for all information sent to their University-assigned e-mail address.

ACCEPTABLE USE OF COMPUTING POLICY
The Suffolk University community is encouraged to make innovative and creative use of information and technology in support of the University's mission of education, research, and public service. E-mail, computing facilities, printers, or any other technology resources must be used efficiently, lawfully, and in accordance with University policies. Acceptable use of technology and information includes uses related to research, learning, teaching, enrichment, and dissemination of scholarly information.

Examples of impermissible use include:
- Using e-mail or other technology resources to harass or threaten others
- Sending mass e-mail messages, junk mail, or spam
- Unauthorized dissemination of confidential records obtained through computer or information resources
- Unauthorized access, alteration, copying, or deletion of system accounts, passwords, directories, files, or programs belonging to any other user
- Tampering with or adversely affecting University technology resources, such as bandwidth, security, or performance

The full text of the Acceptable Use Policy and other information technology policies can be found on the Information Technology Services Web site at www.suffolk.edu/offices/1058.html.

COPYRIGHT POLICY
Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys’ fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505.

Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense.

For more information, please see the Web site of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov, especially their FAQs, at www.copyright.gov/help/faq

University policies relating to copyright infringement and peer-to-peer file sharing can be found on the Information Technology Services Web site at www.suffolk.edu/offices/37591.html.

DISRUPTIVE OR LIFE-THREATENING BEHAVIOR POLICY
Suffolk University recognizes that certain life-threatening behaviors (e.g., serious threats, suicide attempts, eating disorders, use of alcohol or other drugs, threats to others, etc.) by students are a means of attracting attention or asking for help. While the University is committed to helping students alleviate whatever stress factors are precipitating life-threatening behaviors, such behavior is considered disruptive to and unacceptable in the academic and social/living environments of the University community. At the discretion of the Student Affairs Office, or designee, a parent, guardian, or family member may be notified of such behavior.

Any student who demonstrates behavior that endangers himself/herself or others while enrolled at Suffolk University may be required to undergo a psychological evaluation to assist the University in making an individualized assessment of the student’s ability to participate and contribute to a rigorous academic/living community. The results of a psychological examination will be considered in determining whether, or under what circumstances, the student may continue to live in University housing or attend Suffolk University. A student may be placed on interim suspension from the University and/or University housing pending an evaluation. Based on the results of the evaluation, the University may insist that the student actively engage in counseling while enrolled at Suffolk University and/or may be required to withdraw from University housing and/or the University or meet other conditions.

EMERGENCY COMMUNICATIONS
All Suffolk University students are required to submit (or confirm) current emergency contact information each semester and when such information changes. This will ensure that the University has current and accurate information in the unfortunate event of a campus emergency.
In the event of a major emergency or campus shutdown affecting the Suffolk University community, students will receive an emergency communication via voice mail and text messaging through the University’s provider, Connect-Ed, on all of the phone numbers provided by students. For additional information, please go to the University’s Web site. All contact information provided will be used only for the explicit purpose of notification in the event of a campus emergency, including school closings for inclement weather.

It is the students’ responsibility to maintain accurate and up-to-date contact information in the system.

SHELTER-IN-PLACE
In some emergency situations, such as extreme weather, release of hazardous materials, or the presence of an intruder, emergency responders may order protective actions for persons who live or work on campus. Typically, these protective actions are to evacuate to a safer area or to shelter in place. This plan describes the general procedures to be followed when shelter-in-place is required in response to a major campus emergency. Shelter-in-place is the action of seeking immediate shelter indoors at the location where you are when shelter-in-place is activated. When such actions are warranted, students will be appropriately advised by police, fire, safety or university officials via emergency notification messaging, the University Web site, local radio and television stations, or other appropriate means, if safe to do so.

Steps to Shelter-in-Place
• Remain in the location where you are unless you are instructed to do otherwise.
• Close all doors and windows (and lock them if possible).
• When possible, turn off air conditioning and heating units.
• Silence all audio equipment and cell phones.
• Wait for the “all clear.”

EMERGENCY FIRE EVACUATION
Important fire safety information and fire evacuation procedures are provided to all students at the beginning of each semester. Since the type of fire alarm system and the procedures that must be followed vary slightly for each University building, students are required to familiarize themselves with the evacuation procedures for each building that they have classes in or occupy. All building occupants are responsible for becoming familiar with and adhering to the emergency evacuation procedures and for evacuating the building when an alarm is sounded. Follow the instruction of University police and security or local emergency officials.

General Procedures
When the alarm sounds in any Suffolk University building:
• Follow the instructions of the communication message if given in the building.
• Evacuate the building immediately if there is no communication message.
• Use the closest available exit stairwell to evacuate the building.
• Do NOT use elevators.
• When exiting the building, use sidewalks and walk away from the building to allow for access by the Boston Fire Department and emergency personnel.
• Go to the designated assembly area as indicated at www.suffolk.edu/campuslife/30868.html.
• Do NOT reenter the building until the “all clear” has been given by the Boston Fire Department or emergency personnel.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY
The health and safety of University employees and students and the protection of the environment are Suffolk University’s greatest responsibilities. It is the policy of the University to operate in accordance with federal, state, and local environmental, health, and safety regulations. The University is committed to providing its employees and students with a work and educational environment free from recognizable hazards. Each employee and student shall comply with the regulations and established procedures that are applicable to his/her own activities, actions, and conduct in order to help the University provide this safe environment.

Students are responsible for:
• Ensuring their own personal safety. Students should not perform unsafe acts that compromise personal safety or the safety of others.
• Working and/or behaving in an environmentally responsible manner by observing established policies and procedures, including required procedures concerning the collection and/or disposal of chemical wastes (i.e., in science laboratories, photography darkrooms, and art studios).
• Making sure he/she understands safety procedures when performing work-study or class-related tasks.
• Using safety equipment when required (i.e., gloves and safety goggles when using chemicals in laboratories).
• Reporting unsafe conditions and/or practices immediately to his/her professor or to the Office of Environmental Health and Safety.
• Becoming familiar with and adhering to the procedures described in the Suffolk University Occupant Safety Guide (distributed as a separate pamphlet to students).

Hazing
Suffolk University does not tolerate any form of hazing. In compliance with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts’ anti-hazing statute, the University annually provides each student with a copy of the state law and requires officers of student organizations to distribute a copy of the law to all members. See Mass. Gen. Laws Ch. 269, sec. 17, 18, 19.

Section 17: Hazing: Organizing or Participating; Hazing Defined
Whoever is a principal organizer or participant in the crime of hazing, as defined herein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than three thousand dollars or by imprisonment in

GAMBLING
Any form of gambling on Suffolk University property or involving college functions, including, but not limited to, athletic events and other extra-curricular activities, is prohibited. Gambling is defined as playing a game for money, chips/markers, or property, or otherwise placing a bet on an uncertain outcome. This is a serious offense and will therefore be treated as such. Students found responsible for participating in gambling activities are subject to sanctions ranging up to dismissal from the University.

University-approved non-cash legal gambling activities such as casino nights with prizes must be approved by the director of student activities, or designee. The sponsoring organization must obtain appropriate licenses and complete required reports for legal gambling activities.

Students who experience serious difficulties with gambling are urged to call Gambler’s Anonymous at 617.899.7943 or Germanton at 617.227.2700.

Demonstrating good environmental citizenship by supporting University recycling and energy and water conservation efforts.
a house of correction for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment. The term “hazing” as used in this section and in sections eighteen and nineteen, shall mean any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, whether on public or private property, which willfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or person. Such conduct shall include whipping, beating, branding, forced calisthenics, exposure to the weather, forced consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug or other substance, or any other brutal treatment or forced physical activity which is likely to adversely affect the physical health or safety of any such student or other person, or which subjects such student or other person to extreme mental stress, including extended deprivation of sleep or rest or extended isolation.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section to the contrary, consent shall not be available as a defense to any prosecution under this action.

Section 18: Failure to Report a Hazing

Whoever knows that another person is the victim of hazing as defined in section seventeen and is at the scene of such crime shall, to the extent that such person can do so without danger or peril to himself or others, report such crime to an appropriate law enforcement official as soon as reasonably practicable. Whoever fails to report such crime shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

Section 19: Copy of Sections 17–19; Issuance to Students and Student Groups; Teams and Organizations; Report

Each institution of secondary education and each public or private institution of post-secondary education shall file, at least annually, a report with the board of higher education and, in the case of secondary institutions, the board of education shall promulgate regulations governing the content and frequency of such reports, and shall forthwith report to the attorney general any such institution which fails to make such report.

The University disciplinary processes will be applied in cases of alleged hazing.

HEALTH INSURANCE REQUIREMENT

Massachusetts state law requires that students enrolled in at least 75 percent of a full-time course load per semester have adequate health insurance (as specified by the Massachusetts QHSIP regulations). All international students are required to enroll in the Suffolk Student Health Insurance Plan regardless of course load. Insurance from outside the United States cannot be accepted.

Students who already have health insurance coverage may choose to waive participation in the University health insurance plan. You must complete the waiver online at www.universityhealthplans.com before September 25 every year you are a student (January 31 for new spring semester students). This waiver must be completed by the deadline or you will automatically be enrolled in the plan for the full year without a refund. Please contact Health and Wellness Services before the deadline if you have not received confirmation that your waiver was accepted or if you have any questions.

All students wishing to enroll in the Suffolk Student Health Insurance Plan should also go online to the above Web site to enroll every year you are a student. Once enrolled, you will be covered until the plan year ends each August. We recommend enrolling prior to the deadline to avoid any lapse in coverage and to ensure you will have your insurance ID card in a timely manner. Please visit the Health and Wellness Web site at www.suffolk.edu/health for more detailed information and links to important forms and sites.

REQUIRED IMMUNIZATIONS

Massachusetts state law requires all full-time students to provide documentation that they have been properly immunized against hepatitis B, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, and tetanus. Students are required to have had two doses of the measles (two MMRs are recommended) and three doses of hepatitis B shots. Failure to comply with this regulation will result in students being blocked from registering for classes.

All international students must submit immunization records regardless of the number of credit hours in which they are enrolled.

All students living in University housing must also provide proof of being immunized against meningitis within the past five years, regardless of the number of credits hours in which they are enrolled. This immunization must be administered at least two weeks prior to arrival on campus. Students who cannot receive the meningitis vaccine due to medical, religious, or other reasons must submit a signed copy of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health waiver form. This form is available at www.suffolk.edu/health. Proof of immunizations should be submitted to Health and Wellness Services in conjunction with the Health History form by August 1. Please visit the Health and Wellness Services Web site at www.suffolk.edu/health for more detailed information and links to important forms and sites.

IN Voluntary WITHDRAWAL POLICY

Students may voluntarily withdraw from Suffolk University at any time during their matriculation at Suffolk University. However, situations as described below may arise when the University determines on an individualized, case-by-case basis that a student may need to be involuntarily withdrawn from the University.
When a student demonstrates conduct that violates the Suffolk University Community Standards or other Suffolk policies, that conduct will be addressed through the appropriate disciplinary processes. This policy is not intended to be disciplinary in nature. Rather, this policy outlines the criteria and procedures for when and how a student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the University for demonstrating behavior that creates a direct threat to the safety or health of the student or others or that unreasonably disrupts the normal education processes and orderly operation of the University. There may be situations in which both this policy and the Suffolk University Community Standards and/or other Suffolk policies are applicable.

Criteria for an Involuntary Withdrawal

A student may be involuntarily withdrawn from Suffolk University if the University determines on an individualized, case-by-case basis, in accordance with the procedures listed below, that the student:

1. Demonstrates behavior that endangers himself/herself or that creates a direct threat that the student may endanger himself/herself, or;
2. Demonstrates behavior that endangers himself/herself or that creates a direct threat that the student may endanger himself/herself, or;
3. Demonstrates behavior that endangers others or that creates a direct threat that the student may endanger others.

Involuntary Withdrawal Process

If it becomes evident—through observed behavior or by report(s) from faculty, staff or students—that a withdrawal from the University may be in the best interest of a student and the University and the student do not agree, the following procedures will be engaged:

• The dean of students, or designee, will meet with the student, giving notice to the student of the meeting and providing an opportunity for the student (and his/her family if the student has a signed waiver indicating permission to share information) to provide evidence to the contrary and/or to make suggestions for reasonable accommodation(s) short of involuntary withdrawal from the University.

• If, after conversation, the student maintains that he/she would like to remain enrolled, the dean of students, or designee, will consult with appropriate medical professionals regarding the evidence presented by the student. Failure by the student to sign the Consent to Share Information form so that medical/clinical professionals may be consulted will result in the involuntary withdrawal from the University as Suffolk University will have insufficient evidence to render an individualized determination. The dean of students, or designee, will also consult with other University officials as appropriate.

• The dean of students, or designee, will then convene a committee comprised of the director of the Counseling Center, the director of Health and Wellness Services, the director of Disability Services, the director of Residential Life and Summer Programs (if appropriate), and a representative of the college in which the student is enrolled to review collected information and evidence presented by the student. The committee will engage in a determination on an individualized, case-by-case basis and will apply the direct threat analysis, taking into consideration the nature, duration, and severity of the risk and the likelihood, imminence, and nature of the future harmful conduct, either to the student or to others in the University community.

• The Committee will render a decision and present that decision to the student in writing. Should the decision be to withdraw the student involuntarily, appropriate conditions for return will be contained within the withdrawal letter. Should the student choose to appeal the Committee’s decision, he/she will make such appeal to the vice president for Student Affairs within five (5) business days of the date of the withdrawal letter. The decision of the vice president for Student Affairs will be final.

• Prior to returning to or enrolling at the University, a student who has been involuntarily withdrawn must submit a written plan that identifies how the student will resume his/her status at the University. The plan must respond to the condition that gave rise to the need for the student’s involuntary withdrawal (i.e., need for ongoing medical or psychological care, ability to maintain a standard of responsibility and self care, ability to assume class participation). If the student will reside in University housing, the plan must also state how the student will transition back into this community.

• The Committee will review the student’s plan to determine on an individualized, case-by-case basis whether the student’s request to re-enroll at that time shall be granted or denied by taking into consideration all of the relevant factors and information presented. The decision of the Committee is final.

Deviations from Established Procedures

Reasonable deviations from this policy will not invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to a student may result.

MILITARY SERVICE

Suffolk University will make the necessary accommodations to ensure that active-duty students will not be penalized academically or financially. Any student called into active service must contact the Offices of the Registrar, Bursar, and Student Affairs to make the proper arrangements associated with his/her student record.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDENT BEHAVIOR POLICY/GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY

Suffolk University students have a responsibility as members of both the Suffolk community and the neighborhood community to demonstrate respect and concern for their neighbors. Suffolk University imposes an obligation upon all its students, both resident and non-resident, to demonstrate responsible citizenship in their local neighborhoods. Therefore, the University reserves the right to refer any student to the Student Conduct System who is identified as being involved in disruptive, disorderly, or destructive behavior, or any other behavior that is disruptive of the University’s community/neighborhood relations; interferes with or obstructs the lawful missions, processes, and functions of the University; or that is found by the University to be abhorrent or offensive to generally accepted standards of social conduct.

If found responsible, the student is subject to sanctions up to and including loss of University privileges, suspension, or dismissal from Suffolk University.

Sanctions may also include parental notification consistent with the provisions of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Repeated violations or the severity of the misconduct may heighten the University’s response and may include suspension or expulsion.

The following list is not exhaustive but sets forth examples of inappropriate conduct and resultant minimum sanctions:

• Inappropriate, disorderly, or disruptive conduct: letter of warning and educational program
• Disruptive party off-campus (host): probation, fine, educational program, and parental notification
• Disruptive party off-campus (participant): letter of warning, fine, and educational program
• Noise disturbance: letter of warning, fine, and educational program

• Possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in locations or under conditions prohibited by University policy or by law, including allowing minors to consume alcohol in an off-campus residence: probation, fine, educational program, and parental notification

• Illegal possession or consumption of drugs: probation, fine, educational program, and parental notification

• Aiding, abetting, or cooperating in an act that violates the Suffolk University policy on off-campus behavior—any student who is present at the time when a policy violation occurs may be charged with the violation: letter of warning, fine, and educational program

• Possession of a false ID card: probation, fine, and parental notification

PERSONAL PROPERTY

Compensation for loss or damage to personal property on campus is not a University responsibility. Individuals desiring such protection must make arrangements for the necessary coverage at their own expense. Residential students are encouraged to consider securing personal property insurance, either through the homeowners’ policy of their parents or through a separate renters’ insurance policy.

PETS AND SERVICE ANIMAL POLICY

Pets are not permitted in University buildings, including residence halls, with the exception of service animals as described in this policy.

Suffolk University adheres to the current definition of “service animal” as described in section 36.104 of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). This definition states:

“Any guide dog, signal dog, or other animal individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including, but not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals with impaired hearing to intruders or sounds, providing minimal protection or rescue work, pulling a wheelchair, or fetching dropped items.”

Responsibilities of Students with Service Animals at Suffolk University

Training:

To work on campus, a service animal must be specifically trained to perform a service function. Evidence of successful completion of a recognized licensing or certification program for service animals, or a letter documenting training, is required. A copy of the proof of certification should be on file with the Office of Disability Services (for students) or Human Resources Office (for faculty/staff).

Identification: The service animal must wear a harness, cape, identification tag, or other gear that readily identifies its working status. It also must wear an owner-identification tag.

Licensing and Vaccination: The animal must be licensed and immunized in accordance with the laws, regulations, and ordinances of the city of Boston, Suffolk County, and the state of Massachusetts.

Health: The animal must be in good health. Service animals that are ill should not be taken into public areas. A student with an ill animal may be asked to leave University facilities.

Leash: The animal must be on a leash or otherwise under the control of the student at all times.

Under Control of the Student: The student must be in full control of the animal at all times. The care and supervision of the service animal is solely the responsibility of its student.

Cleanup: The student must clean up after the animal.* Feces must be disposed of properly in a plastic bag and put into a waste receptacle.

Areas Off-Limits to Service Animals

Research Laboratories: The natural organisms carried by dogs and other animals may negatively affect the outcome of research. At the same time, the chemicals and/or organisms used in research may be harmful to service animals.*

Areas in Which There Is a Danger to Service Animals: Any room, including a classroom, where there are sharp metal cuttings, other sharp objects on the floor or protruding from a surface, hot material on the floor, a high level of dust, or moving machinery is off-limits to service animals (e.g., mechanical rooms, custodial closets, wood shops, metal/machine shops). **

Note: Professors may make exceptions on a case-by-case basis. The final decision shall be made based on the nature of the research or machinery involved and the best interest of the animal.

Procedures for Relating to Students with Service Animals

When relating to service animals and their student, faculty, staff, and students should:

• Allow a service animal to accompany the student at all times and everywhere on campus, except where service animals are specifically prohibited due to health, environmental, or safety hazards.

• Always speak to the student first but remember that service animals are not walking “show and tell” exhibits.

• Refrain from petting, feeding, or deliberately startling a service animal. Resist the temptation to offer treats to the service animal.

• Immediately report any disruptive behavior of a service animal to University Police. No attempt should be made to separate a student from his/her service animal.

Any questions regarding service animals or their students should be directed to the Office of Disability Services (for students) or Human Resources (for faculty/staff).

Service Animal Checklist

Students utilizing service animals on the Suffolk University campus need to submit the following materials to the Office of Disability Services (ODS) before the first day of classes. This information should be updated on an annual basis and submitted to ODS:

• License
• Identification worn when the animal is working
POLICY AGAINST SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

Suffolk University supports the rights of all students to live and study in an environment free from sexual coercion and violence. Sexual contact with another person without his/her consent or with the use and/or threat of force violates the standards of civility, decency, and respect expected of all members of the campus community.

Suffolk University prohibits non-consensual sexual activity (including, but not limited to, sexual assault and rape) and sexually exploitative behavior (jointly referred to as "sexual misconduct"). Acts of sexual misconduct may be committed by men against women, women against men, men against men, and women against women. The issue in any case is not the gender or sexual orientation of the persons involved but the acts committed.

Any retaliatory action or behavior taken toward an individual as a consequence of his/her decision to report a violation or pursue action or criminal prosecution, or any retaliatory action or behavior taken toward any individual who cooperates in an investigation is prohibited. Retaliatory acts may include, but are not limited to, threats, intimidation, or harassment. Retaliation may result in immediate disciplinary action.

Prohibited Conduct

Non-Consensual Sexual Activity

Non-consensual sexual activity includes, but is not limited to, sexual assault and rape, any sexual activity by a group of students that takes place without the consent of the other student(s) or individual(s) involved. The crime of rape occurs when the offender has sexual intercourse or unnatural sexual intercourse with a person and compels such person to submit by force and against his/her will, or compels such person to submit by threat of bodily injury. Sexual activity includes intentional contact with the breasts, mouth, buttocks, groin, or genitals, or touching another person with any of these body parts, or forcing another person to touch you or themselves with or on any of these body parts; intercourse, however slight, meaning vaginal penetration by a penis, object, tongue, or finger, anal penetration by a penis, object, tongue, or finger; and oral copulation (mouth to genital contact or genital to mouth contact).

Sexually Exploitative Behavior

Sexually exploitative behavior occurs when a student takes non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for his/her own advantage or benefit, or to benefit or advantage another other than the one being exploited. Sexually exploitative behavior may also constitute non-consensual sexual activity. Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to:

- Prostitution (such as selling or exchanging money or something else of value or benefit for sexual acts);
- Taking pictures or video or audio recording another in a sexual act or in any other private sexual activity without the consent of all involved in the activity, or exceeding the boundaries of consent (such as allowing another person to hide in a closet and observe sexual activity, or disseminating sexual pictures without the photographed person’s consent);
- Unauthorized posting or distribution of materials involving the sexual activity of another person, including electronic postings;
- Sexual voyeurism (such as watching a person who is undressing, using the bathroom, or engaging in sexual acts without the consent of the person observed);
- Engaging in sexual activity with another person while knowingly infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) or another sexually transmitted disease (STD) and without informing the other person of the infection
- Administering alcohol or drugs (such as “date rape” drugs) to another person without his/her knowledge or effective consent.

Sexual Harassment

Suffolk University prohibits sexual harassment. Refer to the Policy in Opposition to Harassment, Including Sexual Harassment available in this Student Handbook.

Consent

Consent must be informed and given freely by all participants to any sexual activity. For consent to be valid, there must be an exchange of mutually understandable words or actions between participants to a sexual interaction. Consent must be present throughout the activity and can be revoked at any time. Silence, or the fact that the parties had previously been in a relationship, by itself is not sufficient to indicate consent. Consent may not be given by someone who is disoriented, asleep, drugged, intoxicated, unconscious, under 16 years of age, physically helpless, or mentally disabled. Consent cannot be obtained by the use of physical force, compelling threats, intimidating behavior, or coercion.

A student who engages in sexual activity when the student knows, or should know, that the other person is disoriented, asleep, drugged, intoxicated, unconscious, under 16 years of age, physically helpless, or mentally disabled has violated this policy. It is not an excuse that the student accused of sexual misconduct was intoxicated and, therefore, did not realize the incapacity of the other.

Sexual activity with someone whose incapacity results from the ingestion of alcohol, drugs, or a so-called “date-rape” drug is in violation of this policy. Possession, use, and/or distribution of any of these substances, including, but not limited to, Rohypnol, Ketamine, GHB, and Burundanga, is prohibited, and administering one of these substances to another student for the purpose of inducing incapacity for a sexual purpose is a violation of this policy. Use of alcohol or other drugs will never function to excuse behavior that violates this policy.

Confidentiality

Suffolk University understands that a student who has been the survivor of sexual misconduct may wish to talk about the incident with the assurance that the discussion will be confidential. Confidentiality may not be assured when there is imminent risk of harm to the survivor or others. Students may speak with staff members in the Counseling Center or with the University chaplain confidentially for emotional support.

Counseling Center

Amy Fisher, University Chaplain

Donahue Hall, 5th floor

Because these services are, in most cases, confidential, a discussion with any of these sources may not result in a complaint being filed with the University or result in action being taken by the University to respond to the incident. A student who wants emotional support only should contact the confidential counseling resources listed above. A student wishing to have an incident investigated, mediated, or adjudicated must make a complaint in accordance with the procedures described below.

The University endeavors to respect and follow the wishes of any individual who brings forward a sexual misconduct concern. However, students should understand that the University may have ethical and legal obligations to investigate, attempt to resolve, or adjudicate incidents of sexual misconduct that come to its attention and also may have obligations to report the matter to the local police department. Therefore, depending on the circumstances, it may not be possible for a conversation with Suffolk University Police...
1. Get to a safe place quickly. If the perpetrator is still in the area or his/her presence on campus is threatening, call SUPD at 617.573.8111. Off campus, call 911 to contact the police department in the city or town where you are located. Please note: Once SUPD is informed that sexual misconduct may have taken place, SUPD may inform the Boston Police Department’s Sexual Assault Unit (when an alleged sexual assault is reported) of the survivor’s name, and an investigation may be conducted. An SUPD incident report will be prepared by an SUPD officer. The survivor will be identified as Jane or John Doe. A summary of the incident will be maintained for reporting purposes. SUPD will share the survivor’s name with the dean of students so the Student Affairs Office can follow up with the survivor to offer support and resources.

Survivors may ask SUPD for a taxi voucher to Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) without having to report sexual misconduct.

2. Preserve physical evidence. Because evidence of the misconduct and the perpetrator’s identity (hair, seminal fluids, bits of skin, etc.) may be left on the survivor’s body, it is important not to bathe, shower, douche, or even use the toilet if avoidable. If the survivor was assaulted orally, drinking or brushing teeth prior to an exam should be avoided. Survivors should not straighten up the scene of the incident and should take a change of clothes to the hospital. If the survivor must change clothes, put the items that were worn at the time of the attack in a paper bag (not plastic) and bring them to the hospital. Having physical evidence collected can strengthen a case if the survivor pursues legal action.

3. Seek timely medical attention. Survivors are encouraged to go for a sexual assault exam as soon as possible because injuries should be treated promptly and evidence deteriorates quickly. If you are on campus, SUPD can arrange free taxi transportation for you to MGH. MGH employs trained sexual assault nurse examiners (SANEs) to collect forensic evidence, check for injuries, and provide preventative treatment for pregnancy and exposure to sexually transmitted diseases. A survivor may bring a friend or family to the hospital for support. Hospitals in the Boston area with sexual assault nurse examiners are:

- The Boston Area Rape Crisis Center (BARCC) can provide a free medical advocate to meet survivors and their families in hospital emergency departments. In the immediate aftermath of a sexual assault or rape, survivors face a host of emotional, medical, and legal decisions. BARCC medical advocates are certified rape crisis counselors who provide information and support to the survivor and/or family at the hospital. Advocates provide support throughout the entire forensic exam if the survivor wishes. They can also be helpful with safety planning, arranging transportation, paperwork, and with follow-up plans. Research has shown that survivors who have a rape crisis advocate present at the hospital are more likely to feel positive about the experience of going to the hospital. This is an important start to the healing process. BARCC can be reached at its 24-hour hotline at 800.841.8371.

Suffolk University’s Health and Wellness Services can provide referrals for physical exams, pregnancy tests, and screening and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases.

4. Contact someone trained to help. Students who are survivors of sexual misconduct may wish to contact any of the following based on comfort level or personal circumstances. There is not a clear best place to start in all cases. Be sure to read the following section carefully prior to contacting someone trained to help because it contains information about maintaining your confidentiality.

The Counseling Center provides free, confidential services to students involved in sexual misconduct incidents and other Suffolk students. Confidentiality may not be assured when there is imminent risk of harm to the survivor or others. The Counseling Center member will maintain a summary of the incident for record keeping but will not share the survivor’s name without his/her permission. Counselors at the Counseling Center are available to assist survivors in a crisis situation and provide information about options, including medical assistance, psychological counseling, University disciplinary action, and legal prosecution. Counselors can provide safe, confidential support during this difficult period and can inform students of common reactions to crises and discuss coping methods that may assist students immediately following the assault and after. Talking about concerns with one of these counselors may help students sort arrival of the Boston Police Department (when there is a report of an alleged sexual assault). The survivor’s name WILL BE shared with the Boston Police, and an investigation may be conducted. An SUPD incident report will be written by an SUPD officer, and the survivor will be identified as Jane or John Doe. A summary of the incident will be maintained for reporting purposes. SUPD will share the survivor’s name with the dean of students so the Student Affairs Office can follow up with the survivor to offer support and resources. In an emergency, if you are off campus, you are encouraged to call 911 for the police department in the city or town where you are located.

2. A student who wishes to report sexual misconduct or file a complaint against another student through the University (potentially leading to disciplinary action) will be entitled to:
• A change of an on-campus student’s housing to a different on-campus location
• Transfer of class sections when available
• Assistance in exploring alternative housing, incompletes, a leave of absence, or withdrawing from the University

3. After reporting an incident of sexual misconduct to SUPD or the Student Affairs Office, a survivor may request the following:
• A change of on-campus student’s housing to a different on-campus location
• Transfer of class sections when available
• Assistance in exploring alternative housing, incompletes, a leave of absence, or withdrawing from the University
• The dean of students or associate dean of students is available to meet with a student considering submitting a complaint, may outline the process for filing a complaint, and explain University discipline procedures.

5. The disciplinary procedures outlined in the Community Standards and the Student Conduct System will be followed for complaints of sexual misconduct committed by another Suffolk student. Those procedures are described in more detail on pp. 86.

6. Depending on the circumstances, both students in a case may be issued administrative orders to have no contact with one another. This allows the matter to proceed without any possible harassment or miscommunication between parties.

7. An administrative hearing may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being, or fears of confrontation of the charged student, complainant, or witnesses during the hearing by providing alternate means of communication when and as determined in the sole judgment of the hearing officer to be appropriate.

8. In accordance with the Student Conduct System described in more detail on pp. 86 a charged student and alleged survivor of a charged student’s misconduct will be entitled to:
• Receive written notice of charges;
• Obtain the name of the individual complainant (if applicable);
• View the written complaint in the office of the hearing officer in the presence of a department staff member during normal business hours;
• Be notified of the date, time, and place of the administrative hearing;
• Receive notice of the fact that failure to schedule an administrative hearing by the due date or appear for an administrative hearing may result in the administrative hearing being conducted in the absence of the charged student or alleged survivor of the charged student’s misconduct;
Past Abuse
Many individuals experience sexual misconduct and never tell anyone at the time of the incident. If you were assaulted weeks or even years ago, assistance is still available. Talking with someone now may help you to cope better with abuse from the past, whether it was rape, child sexual abuse, incest, or sexual harassment.

Sexual Misconduct Response Team
The purpose of the Sexual Misconduct Response Team is to address the safety needs of the Suffolk community while protecting the survivor’s right to privacy and insuring the integrity of any police investigation or University disciplinary action.

The Sexual Misconduct Response Team may be composed of at least the:
• Vice president for Student Affairs
• Dean of students
• Director of Suffolk University Police (SUPD)
• Director of the Counseling Center
• University risk manager

Other members of the Suffolk community, such as the director of Health and Wellness Services, director of Residence Life and Summer Programs, and director of Public Affairs may be included as needed for a given set of circumstances.

If it is determined that a reported incident of sexual misconduct represents a potential danger to the Suffolk community, the Sexual Misconduct Response Team will be convened.

A potential danger to the Suffolk community includes the following:
• A pattern of acquaintance sexual misconduct incidents;
• A pattern of stranger sexual misconduct incidents that occur near the campus;
• A violent or sadistic sexual misconduct incident; or
• A gang rape or sexual misconduct incident.

SOLICITATION
No student or person representing any company is permitted to offer any product or service for purchase on the campus or in the student residences unless approved through the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement or the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs. Students or student groups are not allowed to solicit funds by letter or in person from individuals, companies, or groups by using the name of the University.
WEAPONS POLICY

Possessing loaded or unloaded firearms (with the exception below), explosives or other weapons, or the use of any item in a threatening manner is prohibited on the Suffolk University campus or at off-campus events. In addition, items such as dartboards and darts of any type, switchblades, stilettos, nun chucks, slingshots, BB guns, paintball guns, chemicals, fireworks, ammunition (with the exception below), and any item that may be used as a weapon are also prohibited. Improper use of laser beam instruments is also prohibited. Possession without appropriate authorization and/or misuse of weapons will result in serious disciplinary action by the University. Weapons of any kind may not be stored in any building or on the grounds of Suffolk University. Students in possession of a valid Firearms Identification (FID) card are permitted to carry mace or pepper spray. The FID card must be made available to the Suffolk University Police upon request.

A law enforcement officer, as recognized by the chief of Suffolk University Police, may submit a request (registration form) to carry a firearm on the Suffolk campus along with a photocopy of his/her valid license to carry firearms permit. FID cards alone will not be acceptable authorization to carry a firearm on University property. Registration forms are available at the University Police Dispatch Center, located on the first floor of the Donahue Building. Registration forms will be approved or denied by the chief of Suffolk University Police and may be revoked at any time.

Requestors will be informed of the approval status of their requests by mail. If approved, the registration form will be maintained at the University Police Dispatch Center. The registration form must be renewed one year from the date of approval. All approved firearms must be carried on the recognized law enforcement officer at all times and in a concealed manner. Suffolk University Police will not hold/store any firearms for any recognized law enforcement officers at any time. No rifles or any other firearms of this sort will be allowed on University property.

SECTION 4

Residence Life Policies
BUILDING ACCESS AND OCCUPANCY

HOUSING LICENSE AGREEMENT

The Suffolk University Housing License Agreement is a yearlong agreement that covers both the fall and spring semesters. Students may be released on request from the housing license agreement to participate in Suffolk’s study abroad program. Any student who wishes to be released from the housing license agreement must complete a Food and Housing Petition and submit it to the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs. This office will determine on a case-by-case basis whether the student will be relieved of his/her obligation to meet the license agreement. The license agreement may be cancelled by the University at any time for violations of Community Standards.

ROOM ASSIGNMENTS AND ROOM CHANGES

The University reserves the right to assign rooms to students on a space-available basis. Room changes during the semester will be made for well-founded reasons only and must be approved by the assistant director of Residence Life and Summer Programs. However, no such request will be considered during the first 10 days or the last two weeks of each semester.

Students who are having difficulties with their living situation should seek assistance from an RA/graduate residence director. The RA will update the assistant director, who will become involved, if necessary, to help resolve the problem and/or facilitate a room change. Room changes between buildings are possible on a space-available basis, including for the purpose of room consolidation.

Students are expected to reside in the room to which they have been assigned unless prior approval for a change has been granted. Under no circumstances may a student move to another room without the permission of the assistant director. Unauthorized room changes are not permitted, and students will not be allowed to stay in those rooms. Additionally, students may face disciplinary action. The director of Residence Life and Summer Programs, or designee, reserves the right to change the room assignment of any student if deemed necessary.

ROOM SELECTION

Room selection is held each spring for returning resident students to select their room for the following year. Currently, only freshman residents as defined by the Admissions Office may participate in room selection. There are a series of deposits that will be required prior to room selection. A lottery is run to determine participants and selection order. During room selection, students may select to live in a group setting, such as suites or apartments. A detailed packet of room selection information will be distributed either electronically or by mail to all eligible participants. Information is typically available shortly after the start of the spring semester and is also available at www.suffolk.edu/reslife.

In order to retain a fall housing reservation, students must have their accounts with the University in good order by the fall payment date (August 1).

FOOD AND HOUSING PETITION

Any student who wishes to request a change, modification, and/or termination of the Suffolk University Housing License Agreement and/or meal plan must complete a Food and Housing Petition. Petition forms are available in each residence hall building office and online at www.suffolk.edu/reslife. Students may select to meet with the board to explain the circumstances of their case. The petition board meets on an as-needed basis and on the reading day at the end of fall semester to review any requests received.

Food and Housing Petitions are not accepted after Friday, March 25, 2011.

RESIDENCE HALL ACCESS

The access and use of building amenities at 10 West, 10 West Expansion, 150 Tremont, and Miller Hall are a privilege that carries with it the obligation to act in a proper and responsible fashion.

10 West Street and 10 West Street Expansion Residents

All residents living at the 10 West Street and 10 West Street Expansion are permitted to use the dining halls and computer labs at 150 Tremont Street and/or Miller Hall. Students living at 10 West and 10 West Expansion will receive a sticker at move-in indicating they are a 10 West resident. To gain access to 150 Tremont or Miller Hall, students must show their ID with its 10 West sticker to the security guard at the front desk of the residence halls between 7am and 11pm daily. (Students will be able to open the door with their University ID.)

10 West and 10 West Expansion residents who wish to bring up to two guests (with a picture ID) to the dining hall at 150 Tremont or Miller Hall must register all guests at the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs at 10 West Street by 3pm on the day prior to dining in the dining hall. For weekend dining, residents must register their guests in the 10 West Street Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs by Fridays at 5pm. The approved list of 10 West residents and their guests will be given to the SUPD desk at the front desks of each residence hall daily. This guest registration is necessary ONLY if you plan to eat in the dining halls at 150 Tremont/Miller Hall.

Between 10pm and 7am, all residents and guest(s) must be signed in at the SUPD desk at the front desks of the residence hall they are visiting by a resident (host) of that residence hall. It is the host’s responsibility to ensure that the Suffolk University Housing Guest Policy is followed.

If an individual abuses this system and/or has any policy violations in any residence hall, this privilege may be revoked for the remainder of the semester in addition to other appropriate sanctions.

Holiday Inn Residents

All residents living at the Holiday Inn are permitted to use the dining halls and computer labs at Miller Hall and/or 150 Tremont Street. Students living at the Holiday Inn will receive a sticker at move-in indicating they are a Holiday Inn resident. To gain access to Miller Hall or 150 Tremont, students must show their ID with its Holiday Inn sticker to the security guard at the front desk of the residence halls between 7am and 10pm daily. (Students will be able to open the door with their ID.)

Holiday Inn residents who wish to bring up to two guests (with a picture ID) to the dining hall at Miller Hall or 150 Tremont must register all guests at the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs by Fridays at 3pm. The approved list of Holiday Inn residents and their guest will be given to the SUPD desk at the front desks of each residence hall daily. This guest registration is necessary ONLY if you plan to eat in the dining halls at 150 Tremont/Miller Hall.

Between 10pm and 7am, all residents and guest(s) must be signed in at the SUPD desk at the front desks of the residence hall they are visiting by a resident (host) of that residence hall. It is the host’s responsibility to ensure that the Suffolk University Housing Guest Policy is followed.

If an individual abuses this system and/or has any policy violations in any residence hall, this privilege may be revoked for the remainder of the semester in addition to other appropriate sanctions.

CHECK-IN/CHECKOUT

Room condition forms will be filled out by the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff prior to the student’s arrival to campus. Students will sign a room condition form (RCF) once they are given their room key. Student will then be given 24 hours after signing the RCF to indicate and report any discrepancies to Residence Life and Summer Programs staff.

It is the resident student’s responsibility to complete a proper checkout of his/her residence hall room when he/she is vacating the room permanently. Students may check out of their rooms by making an appointment with a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member to sign the inventory form and note changes in the condition of the room upon leaving or by completing an express checkout envelope. Residents using the express checkout option waive their right to appeal any individual room/suite/apartment damage charges. Student must return all room and building keys at checkout. With either checkout option, residents are not able to appeal any common (floor/building) damages.

Improper checkout may include, but is not limited to, the following: failure to arrange a checkout time with a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member, failure to be present at the checkout time, failure to complete checkout paperwork or express checkout procedures, and failure to return key(s). Failure to return key(s) will result in a lock change and an additional charge.

Upon move-out, rooms and living areas must be “broom clean.” Residents are responsible for providing their own cleaning supplies for their individual living areas. A cleaning fee and improper checkout fee may be assessed if specified procedures are not followed. The assistant director inspects all rooms after the checkout procedure is complete to assess room damage.

Any student who is planning to withdraw from or take a leave of absence from the University must contact the Student Affairs Office for information and assistance necessary for his/her proper withdrawal or leave of absence. In addition, the student must complete a Food and Housing Petition. All students must vacate the residence halls 24 hours after the withdrawal or leave of absence form is submitted to the Student Affairs Office. Students must check out of their rooms and return their key(s). Students are responsible for University housing charges through the end of the semester in which they leave.

Failure to follow university checkout procedures will result in a minimum charge of $100.

HALL KEYS AND UNIVERSITY ID POLICY

All resident students are issued a key to their residence hall room and a Suffolk University ID. Students are prohibited from giving or lending their keys/IDs to others at any time. The front door to all residence halls is always closed and locked. SUPD is responsible for identifying students who fail to show proper Suffolk University identification upon entering a building. Students who fail to show proper Suffolk University identification may face disciplinary action and/or a fine.

Students must immediately report lost, misplaced, or stolen keys/IDs to the Residence Hall Building Office. Students will be charged a minimum of $150 for a lost key and lock change. This charge will be made against the student’s deposit. Students are charged $20 by the Suffolk University Police to replace University IDs.

If, for any reason, a student is locked out of a residence hall, he/she should attempt to find his/her roommate to gain entrance. If a roommate is not available, an RA should be contacted. During regular office hours, a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member may assist with lockouts. Students are assisted with entry only into their own room. University Police does not have access to student room keys and cannot assist with lockouts.

A staff person will document each lockout. Each student is permitted one “excused” lockout but will be fined for any subsequent lockout. The second lockout is $10 and subsequent lockouts are $25 each. Lockout fines must be paid within five days. Failure to pay a lockout fine will result in the fine being posted to the student’s account.

GUEST POLICY

Residents should be considerate of roommates when inviting guests to their residence hall room, and especially when hosting guests overnight.

All resident students are granted the privilege of entertaining guests in University housing under certain conditions:

• A resident is defined as a student who is assigned to a room, suite, or apartment in the Suffolk University residence areas.

• A guest is defined as an individual who is not assigned to said resident’s room, suite, or apartment.

• A host is a resident student who signs a guest into the residence hall to which he/she resides.

This also applies to Suffolk University residents who are visiting other Suffolk University residents in a building other than their assigned building.

A resident student may sign in no more than two (2) guests at one time; however, the University reserves the right to limit the number of guests at any time without notice depending on factors and circumstances:

• There is a 3 person capacity limit on a 1-person/single room

• There is a 6 person capacity limit on a 2-person/double room
There is a 9 person capacity limit on a 3-person/triple room
There is a 12 person capacity limit on a 4-person/quad room
There is a 12 person capacity limit on a 4-person suite/apartment
There is a 15 person capacity limit on a 5-person suite/apartment
There is a 16 person capacity limit on a 6-person suite/apartment
There is a 19 person capacity limit on a 7-person suite/apartment
There is a 21 person capacity limit on an 8-person suite/apartment
There is a 23 person capacity limit on a 9-person suite/apartment

The sign-in process is supervised by Suffolk University Police and Security:

• All hosts must meet their guests at the front desk.
• The host must present his/her Suffolk ID when signing in guests. The guest must surrender a valid picture ID (non-expired) to SUPD when signing in. The ID will be returned when the guest is properly signed out.
• Guests who are not properly signed in will be considered trespassers and are subject to arrest.

Suffolk University Police documents residents who do not properly sign out their guests. This documentation is forwarded to the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs and may result in disciplinary action and/or a fine.

Individuals under the age of 18 visiting the halls must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Any exception to this rule is made by the director of Residence Life and Summer Programs, or designee. Students who plan to have a guest under 18 years of age must receive approval in advance of the visit. In addition, students who plan to have a guest who does not own a valid picture ID must receive prior approval from the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs for the guest to visit. These requests must be submitted at least 24 hours in advance, and weekend requests must be submitted by Thursday at 5pm.

Guests who are alleged to have committed any violation of residence life policies or the Suffolk University Community Standards may be required to immediately leave the building and/or may be prohibited from entering the building/University property for an extended period of time or permanently, as determined by director of Residence Life and Summer Programs, or designee. Guests who are non-resident Suffolk students will be held accountable for violations of University and/or residence life policy. Police action will be used when necessary to remove a guest.

Hosts must communicate with their roommate/suite/apartment mates 24 hours in advance of a guest’s arrival. At any time, this privilege may be terminated by a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member or the University Police.

The guest must be at minimum a personal acquaintance of the host and must be escorted at all times, except into opposite-sex bathrooms. Resident students are responsible for the actions of their guests and therefore responsible for any damage caused by the guest. The guest is required to follow all University policies. The host is responsible for seeing that the guest follows all University policies. Hosts will be held responsible for violations incurred by their guests, regardless of whether the resident host was physically present when the alleged violation occurred.

All residents are requested to be aware of unescorted guests on the floor and to report their presence to a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff person or to the University Police.

The University may institute a “shelter-in-place” situation should conditions warrant such action. During a “shelter-in-place” situation, no guests are permitted to enter any University building.

Students, along with the staff, are responsible for maintaining a safe living environment. Students should therefore not open the door to anyone who is not their guest and should call University Police if they notice anyone acting suspiciously.

OVERNIGHT GUEST POLICY
Residents should be considerate of roommates when inviting guests to their residence hall room, and especially when hosting guests overnight.

An overnight guest is defined as a guest who is not an occupant of the room/apartment/suite and is in the room/apartment/suite anytime between the hours of 1am and 7am.

A resident may not have an overnight guest for more than three (3) nights in any seven-day period. A resident may not host overnight guests for more than five (5) nights per calendar month. Guests may not stay overnight in Suffolk University designated housing areas for more than five (5) nights per calendar month, whether with the same host or different hosts. Exceptions to these procedures must be approved by the assistant director of the building the resident resides in 24 hours in advance. The University reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to limit the number of overnight guests.

No guest may stay overnight in the public areas of any of the residence halls.

SAFETY AND SECURITY
Residence Life and Summer Programs is committed to providing Suffolk students with a safe and secure environment where they can pursue their studies while learning about themselves and others in the community. Security in the residence halls is provided in a number of ways, but it is important that every student be aware of their environment and make good decisions about their own safety and that of their neighbors. All exterior doors of the residence halls are locked 24 hours a day. However, students should consider the door to their room to be like the door to an apartment if they lived off-campus and keep it locked at all times, especially when they are not in their room.

ABSENCES
If residents intend to be away from the building for an extended period of time, they must notify a member of the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff. All residents must provide necessary emergency contact information. If circumstances prevent you from attending regularly scheduled classes, students should contact the Student Affairs Office at 617.573.8239.

The Housing License Agreement does not cover vacation periods; therefore, students must request, in advance, permission to reside in University housing during these periods. Failure to submit a request by the deadline may result in the denial of the request and/or a late charge. Food service may not be available during vacation periods. It is possible that vacation housing may be available in a specific building and that students may need to relocate. Vacation closing dates are listed in the Housing License Agreement and on the last page of this guide000.

Residents may be charged $100 if they are found in the housing areas after the designated closing time of the building. Residents will also be escorted out of the residence hall or instructed to wait in the lobby until their transportation arrives.
MISSING STUDENTS
Students should immediately inform Suffolk University Police at 617 573.1111 or a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member if they believe another student may be missing.

FIRE SAFETY
Students are expected to notify Suffolk University Police and/or a member of the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff of any fire and safety hazards and to report a fire promptly. All students are expected to observe all fire safety procedures established for the University, including participation in fire alarm evacuation drills. Students must leave designated areas during a fire drill or be subject to disciplinary action. Fire extinguishers and alarm systems shall not be tampered with or tested by unauthorized persons. Fire extinguishers should only be used in emergency situations.

Students are expected to help prevent false alarms and should report any tampering with fire safety equipment to the appropriate staff person.

MEDICAL/PSYCHOLOGICAL EMERGENCIES
In the event of a medical or psychological emergency, students should contact Suffolk University Police and/or a member of the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff immediately.

PERSONAL PROPERTY IN THE RESIDENCE HALLS
The University assumes no responsibility for loss or damage to personal property of students or their guests. This includes, but is not limited to, loss by fire, theft, water, or malfunction of electrical or mechanical systems. Resident students are encouraged to consider securing personal property insurance, either through the homeowners’ policy of their parents or through a separate renters’ insurance policy. Students are strongly urged to keep their rooms locked at all times. If a theft occurs, it should be reported to a Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member and University Police immediately.

LOST AND FOUND
The building offices in each residence hall and Suffolk University Police each maintain a lost and found section. All lost items should be reported to the appropriate building office or University Police. All found items should be turned in at the appropriate building office or the University Police at the front desk. Contact the University Police at 617.573.8333 for recovered property.

COOKING POLICY
Approved cooking and cooking appliances are allowed only in kitchens of the apartments at 10 West. Residents in the apartments must cook with the kitchen appliances provided (stove, oven, microwave). Residents must apply fire safety precautions and observe good cooking practices. Residents must regularly clean the stove drip pans to prevent residue buildup that could result in excessive smoke or fire. Residents will be held financially responsible for any building fire alarm activation or related damages resulting from negligence while cooking.

The use or possession of any item used for cooking, such as items with open coils; coffee pots and coffee makers; George Foreman (or similar) grills; toasters and toaster ovens; hot plates; electric fry pans; waffle, Panini, sandwich, and quesadilla makers; and oil fryers or auxiliary heaters are prohibited in all residence hall areas, including the apartments at 10 West and the basement kitchen in 150 Tremont Street.

The Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs reserves the right to prohibit any appliance without advanced notice.

AMENITIES
Bicycle Storage
Students may store their bicycles at their own risk in the residence hall bike rooms listed below. Bicycle storage is on a first-come, first-served basis. Residents are responsible for providing their own bike locks.

- 10 West Street—Basement
- 150 Tremont Street—Sub Basement
- Miller Hall—First Floor

Bicycles may not be chained to doors, stairwells, or other objects. The fire code dictates that all entrances, exits, corridors, and stairwells must be free and clear at all times. Bicycles stored improperly will be removed at the owner’s expense.

Dining Services
All residence hall students must have a meal plan, except for those students living in 10 West Street apartments. Students can select one of three debit system meal plans. Refer to the Guide to Residence Life for more details.

At the end of the fall semester, any student on Meal Plan A or B whose balance is more than 30 percent of the original balance will automatically be transferred to the next-lowest meal plan option. Students on Meal Plan C with high balances will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Any money left on student accounts at the end of the fall semester will be carried over to the spring. Funds remaining at the end of the spring semester are forfeited.

If students wish to change meal plans, they must notify the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs within three weeks from move-in day at the start of the fall and spring semesters.

It is important that students monitor their balance to ensure they are properly budgeting for the semester. If there is a discrepancy or students are experiencing difficulty using their account, they should speak with a staff person at the Student Accounts Office, located in the Donahue Building. Students may also add money to their RAM account. The RAM account is located on the Suffolk ID and is a stored-value, declining balance. Students can set up a RAM account in $25 increments and can use it at all dining halls and at the Sawyer Cafe. A RAM account can also be used for laundry in the residence halls as well as the bookstore and select off-campus locations. A full list of retail stores that accept the RAM card is located at www.suffolk.edu/ramcard. Students can also add money to their RAM account via www.managemyid.com.

Students with specific dietary requests should contact the director of Residence Dining Services at 617.305.2511. Hours of service are posted at each dining hall at the beginning of the semester.

Students can check out the Web site of Sodexo, the University’s food service provider, for more information at www.sudining.com.

Exercise Room
There is an exercise room in the sub-basement of 150 Tremont Street and in the basements of Miller Hall and 10 West Street. All equipment is used at the student’s own risk.

Kitchen Facilities at 150 Tremont Street
Access to kitchen facilities is limited. Students wishing to use the kitchen may sign up in the 150 Tremont Street Building Office. The key needs to be signed out and in. Students who sign out the key will be held responsible for the condition of the kitchen. Students should take care of the existing facilities and exercise caution when using heating elements in the kitchen. Residents will be held financially responsible for any building fire alarm activation or related damages resulting from negligence while cooking. Hours of use may be limited. There are no public kitchen facilities at Miller Hall.
Laundry Facilities
Coin-operated and card-reader washers and dryers are located in the lower levels of each of the residence halls and may be used at students’ own risk. Washing machines may not be used for dyeing clothing or other items.

Lounge Space
There is a lounge on every floor in both 10 West Street and 150 Tremont Street. There is also a lounge on every other floor at Miller Hall. Study lounges are provided at 150 Tremont Street on every floor except the second and ninth floors. These areas are provided for quiet study. The lounges are open 24 hours a day. Students should be respectful of others using the lounges. Study lounges may not be used as lodging.

Telephones
There are phone jacks in each of the residence hall rooms at Miller Hall and 150 Tremont. At 10 West, there is a phone jack in each suite/apartment, and telephones are provided. Local phone service is included in room and board charges. Students are urged to inform family and friends of their telephone numbers so that they can receive calls directly. Personal calls cannot be taken at the front desk telephone or by a member of the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff.

There is a house phone inside the entrance of each residence hall. This phone can be used to call student rooms and University offices on campus.

The Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs gives out student phone numbers in the residence halls only to other administrative and academic offices. The Office does not give out phone numbers to the public.

It is important that students utilize the on-campus phone system as it may be the only number the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs has to reach students. Students wishing to request a private University number may do so by e-mailing telecom@suffolk.edu.

Special Considerations for Those Living at the Holiday Inn:
A telephone is provided in each room, and all rooms have voicemail. All phone calls (except room-to-room calls) are charged to the student’s account. The Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs therefore strongly encourages students to use their cell phones while in the hotel. The phone number for the Holiday Inn is 617.742.7630. Callers can ask for students by name or room number.

BUILDING AND ROOM DAMAGE
Residence students must work to maintain the condition of the residence areas. If students accidentally cause damage, they should notify the assistant director of the residence hall where the damage occurred. If students notice damage or witness someone causing damage, they should notify a Residence Life and Summer Programs or University Police staff member immediately.

Any person who is found to have caused damage or mistreated University property may lose his/her building access and/or use of amenities and face disciplinary action. In addition, any misconduct that results in damages to equipment may result in a loss of privileges for individuals or the community or the cost of replacement of damaged property. If the University is unable to determine who caused such damages, the replacement costs will be divided among the residents of the building/floor.

Students are encouraged to carefully review the room inventory form upon moving into the room. Upon checkout, students are required to leave their rooms in the same condition as when they checked in. Charges may be levied to students for trash removal, cleaning, repositioning of furniture, damage repair or replacement of University property, and/or improper checkout. Damages to rooms and suites are the responsibility of the residents of the room or suite. If the University is unable to determine who caused such damages, the replacement costs will be divided among the residents of the room/suite/apartment.

In an effort to regularly monitor damages, monthly health and safety inspections will be conducted. When possible, the inspections will be announced at least 24 hours in advance. Inspections of all common areas (lounges, hallways, etc.) will be conducted more frequently. Damage charges for common areas will be posted as they become available.

The following are typical charges set by the Facilities Office for repair/replacement costs.

The university provides these prices as a guideline only and reserves the right to charge the appropriate cost based on the individual damage incident. The following costs are inclusive of replacement, repair, and labor. These prices may vary based on actual costs, and prices are subject to change without advance notice:

Excessive individual damages (including sanitary condition of room/suite/cluster/apartment) may result in the loss of University housing or reassignment.
MAINTENANCE REQUESTS
All routine maintenance requests should be reported to the residence hall building office or to an RA. It is helpful if students make the request in writing and are very specific about the nature of the request. Examples of routine requests include light-bulb replacement, minor air conditioning/heating concerns, clogged toilets, lock or key problems, furniture adjustment, and blown fuses. Work orders are reviewed on a daily basis.

Students may submit requests via e-mail to:
- reslifewest@suffolk.edu for 10 West Street
- reslifetremont@suffolk.edu for 150 Tremont Street
- reslifemiller@suffolk.edu for Miller Hall

Holiday Inn Boston at Beacon Hill residents should contact the front desk of the hotel to report maintenance concerns.

ROOM AND LOUNGE FURNISHINGS
The University provides an adequate amount of furniture for each living area, for both bedrooms and common areas. All University-issued furniture must be left in its assigned space. Students may not disassemble room furnishings for storage elsewhere nor take common area lounge furniture for their own use. The cost of missing, damaged, or destroyed furniture will be assessed to the residents of the area.

Permitted Appliances
The following equipment is permitted in all student rooms: TVs, radios, clocks, stereos, fans, electric razors, hair dryers, refrigerators (not larger than 4 cubic feet), microwaves (not larger than 700 watts), heating pads, and irons (only with automatic shut-off).

Prohibited Items
The following items/behaviors are prohibited within University housing. Residents are subject to disciplinary action for possession of prohibited items and for engaging in prohibited behaviors. The Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs reserves the right to confiscate prohibited item(s). Confiscated items must be picked up by the resident within 30 days of confiscation for the purpose of removing the item out of the residence hall. Residents are responsible for any charges related to the confiscation of items, including, but not limited to, storage or transportation. All confiscated items that are not picked up and taken home by the resident may be disposed of by the Residence Life and Summer Programs staff.

SECTION 5

Alcohol and Drug Policies

SUUFFOLK UNIVERSITY
ALCOHOL AND DRUG POLICY

Suffolk University requires the observance of all laws and regulations that pertain to alcoholic beverages, illegal drugs, and controlled substances as outlined in the statutes and laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is the responsibility of all members of the University community to be familiar with and to comply with these laws.

STUDENT ALCOHOL AND ILLEGAL DRUG POLICY

Suffolk University is a community dedicated to the academic, professional, and personal development of its members and is committed to educational and social programs that promote such development. Personal and communal responsibility with regard to the University’s Student Alcohol and Drug Policy is essential in ensuring that Suffolk’s environment is conducive to student learning and development. Being under the influence of alcohol or drugs will not be accepted as an excuse for conduct that violates the Community Standards. Any student found to allegedly violate this policy will be subject to the Student Conduct System.

General Provisions

Suffolk University enforces all state laws and city ordinances regarding the possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages, including those prohibiting drinking by individuals under 21 years of age. The law also forbids falsifying age and identification cards.

Suffolk University enforces all state laws and city ordinances regarding the possession, use, and sale of illegal drugs and drug paraphernalia.

Student Alcohol Policy

The use, sale, transfer, possession, intoxication of person, or being in the presence of alcoholic beverages in any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties), regardless of age, is prohibited by any student or guest of a student. No alcohol beverage containers (empty, full, or decorative), including, but not limited to, shot glasses, drinking game devices, or other items affiliated with the consumption or possession of alcohol are allowed in any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties), regardless of the owner’s age.

Alcohol advertisements and signage is not permitted in any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties).

Persons and their belongings suspected of bringing alcohol into any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties) or persons suspected to be under the influence of alcohol will be subject to search by Suffolk University Police and may not be allowed into the building or property with the suspected package.

Students are encouraged to contact Suffolk University Police for assistance when persons who are suspected to be under the influence of alcohol may be a danger to themselves or the community.

Student Illegal Drug Policy

The use, sale, transfer, possession, intoxication of person or being in the presence of illegal drugs in any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties) is prohibited by any student or guest of a student. Drug paraphernalia is also prohibited in any campus building or property controlled by the University (including residence halls or leased residential properties). Drug paraphernalia is defined as any equipment, product, or material that is modified for making, using, or concealing illegal, including, but not limited to, pipes, smoking masks/screens, bongs, roach clips, and items used to conceal illegal drugs. Certain scales, vials, and baggies may also be considered drug paraphernalia.
University Regulations for Events with Alcohol

The regulations for use of alcoholic beverages at programs and events sponsored at the University and/or by University departments and organizations are designed to enable these activities to be monitored for compliance with state laws and to limit the use of alcohol to designated areas.

The free distribution of alcoholic beverages at any event is prohibited except at small receptions primarily designed for staff, faculty, and guests, or special student programs approved, in advance, by the Office of Risk Management or by the Office of the Dean of Students in the Law School for Law School student events.

All summer programs and conference guests should contact the Office of Residence Life and Summer Programs, except those located in the Law School, who should contact the Law School events coordinator.

Registration of Events

All events for the College of Arts & Sciences, Sawyer Business School, NESADSU, and non-Suffolk-affiliated functions with alcohol must be registered with the Office of Risk Management. In the Law School, the Office of the Dean of Students has the responsibility for registered events and will file a copy with the Office of Risk Management. To obtain this form, contact the Office of Risk Management for College of Arts & Sciences, Sawyer Business School, and NESADSU events or the Law School events coordinator for Law School events.

Registration of events is required on the following schedule:

- University receptions where alcohol is served but not sold—three days in advance
- University events where alcohol is sold—14 days in advance

Staffing of Events

All events where alcoholic beverages are served or sold must have a designated host who is considered the individual responsible for the event. In addition, all events must be staffed with monitors in a ratio of one monitor for every 40 persons expected to be present. The names of the designated host and monitors must be provided as a part of the registration.

Designated Host

The designated host must be at least 21 years of age. In the case of student clubs and organizations, the designated host will usually be the staff or faculty advisor to that student group. In the case of the Law School, the host will be the person so designated by the governing body of the organization. The designated host agrees to assume the following responsibilities:

- Act as the responsible overseer of the event in general.
- Supervise those serving the alcohol when it is sold.
- Deny alcohol to any individual who appears to be intoxicated.
- Make reasonable efforts to insure that those who appear intoxicated have a safe way to leave the function.
- Remain at the event for its duration.

Monitor/Server

Monitor/servers are those students, faculty, or staff members who are responsible for serving alcoholic beverages to their peers. It is required that servers be certified by TIPS or Safe Server. Events with 40 guests or more must include an additional monitor for every 40 guests. The Office of Risk Management can approve servers for college-wide events sponsored by conference groups, except those located in the Law School, which should be approved by the Law School events coordinator.

University Police

University Police shall be assigned to all campus events where alcoholic beverages are sold. Based on a review of the event and expected attendance during the registration process, University Police may be assigned to other events where alcohol is available.

University Restrictions for Events with Alcohol

Use of alcoholic beverages is prohibited at all athletic events, both intercollegiate and intramural. If potential members are under 21 years of age, alcoholic beverages may not be served at recruitment events. Because student groups are funded, in total or in large part, by student activity fees, special attention must be given to any use of those funds for the purchase of alcoholic beverages. Therefore, alcohol may not be served on campus at an event sponsored by a student organization in the Sawyer Business School, College of Arts and Sciences (including the Student Government Association, Graduate Student Association, and EPA Association), or by the Student Bar Association (SBA) of the Law School, as well as those student organizations the SBA funds, unless an exception is made for one or more of the following reasons:

- The event is specifically designated for a student population over 21 years of age; or
- The Office of Student Activities and Service Learning or Law School dean of students provides written approval of the event and its sponsor agrees to comply with the regulations in this document covering events with alcohol.

Note: Events on campus approved for alcoholic beverages (whether served or sold) must limit the alcoholic beverages to beer and wine.
SMOKING POLICY
The Surgeon General of the United States has determined that tobacco smoking is the nation's leading preventable cause of premature death and disability. Tobacco smoke is hazardous to the health of smokers and non-smokers alike. To promote a safe and healthy campus environment, and in accordance with the Workplace Smoking Restrictions Regulation issued by the City of Boston Public Health Commission, Suffolk University has adopted this policy to encourage smokers to reduce or eliminate their consumption of tobacco, and to protect non-smokers from exposure to tobacco smoke.

Smoking is prohibited in Suffolk University academic and administrative facilities and the residence halls. Smoking is permitted in outdoor areas provided the smoke does not migrate back into an enclosed University building. For example, students may smoke outside University buildings but, if the smoking takes place under a window or surrounding a building entrance and the smoke migrates back into the building, it is a violation of this policy. Smoking is also prohibited in outdoor areas where no smoking signs are posted.

As part of the University’s LEED certification for the 10 West Street Residence Hall, no smoking is prohibited within 25 feet of the entry to 10 West and 10 West Expansion.

Such policies not only serve to protect the health of the community but, in the case of buildings and residences, can lower maintenance costs such as painting or replacing burned carpeting, as well as reduce the risk of fire.

Suffolk University acknowledges that the successful implementation of this policy requires cooperation, mutual respect, and sensitivity on the part of both smokers and non-smokers.

Health and Wellness Services will provide referrals for smoking cessation programs upon request.

DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES ACT – STUDENT NOTIFICATION
General Policy
The University prohibits the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by employees and students. The University complies with all local, state, and federal regulations pertaining to alcohol and illicit drugs. In addition, the University complies with the regulations of both the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989.

Communications
As required by the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, the University will provide an annual written statement to students covering: a) standards of conduct concerning drugs and alcohol; b) federal, state, and local legal sanctions governing the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs or alcohol; c) health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol; d) a description of counseling and treatment programs available for alcohol and drug abuse; and e) University disciplinary sanctions imposed for unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

Standards of Conduct
The University prohibits the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and the unauthorized illegal possession, use, or distribution of alcohol on University property or as any part of a University-sponsored activity.

Federal, State, and Local Legal Sanctions Governing the Unlawful Possession or Distribution of Illicit Drugs or Alcohol
Local, state, and federal laws make illegal use of drugs and alcohol serious crimes. Conviction can lead to imprisonment, fines, and assigned community service. Courts do not lift prison sentences in order for convicted persons to attend college. A felony conviction for such an offense can prevent students from entering many fields of employment or professions.

The minimum age for the sale or purchase of alcoholic beverages in Massachusetts is 21 years of age. All state laws apply at the University. Cities and towns in Massachusetts, specifically Boston, prohibit public consumption of alcohol and impose fines for violation. Massachusetts has criminal penalties for the use of controlled substances or drugs, with penalties varying with the type of drug. In general, narcotic, addictive, and drugs with potential for abuse carry heavier penalties.

Driving while intoxicated in Massachusetts is a serious offense and there are strict penalties for those convicted, including driver’s license removal and imprisonment.

Possession of drugs is illegal without valid authorization. Under federal law, distribution of drugs to persons under age 21 is punishable by twice the normal penalty for first conviction and by three times the normal penalty for second and subsequent convictions. Many laws dictate mandatory prison terms and the full minimum term must be served.

Persons convicted of drug possession under state or federal law are ineligible for federal student grants and loans for up to one year after the first conviction, and five years after the second; the penalty for distributing drugs is loss of benefits for five years after the first, 10 years after the second, and permanently after the third conviction.

Students should review the following state laws regarding alcohol and other drugs which are available on the Massachusetts General Court website:

Policy in Opposition to Harassment, Including Sexual Harassment

Suffolk University does not tolerate any behavior by administrators, faculty, staff, or students which constitutes unlawful harassment of students on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, Vietnam-era or disabled veteran status, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information or physical or mental disability regardless of whether the level of conduct rises to unlawful harassment or discrimination.

Such forms of harassment have been recognized as discriminatory and as such violate University policy as well as state and federal statutes. Sexual harassment is a form of gender discrimination. It is legally defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other physical or verbal conduct or written communication of a sexual nature when:

- submission to, or rejection of, such advances, requests, or conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment or educational status or as a basis for employment or educational decisions; and/or
- such advances, requests, or conduct have the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work or educational performance by creating an intimidating, hostile, humiliating, or sexually offensive work or educational environment.

Under these definitions, direct or implied requests by a supervisor for sexual favors in exchange for actual or promised job benefits such as favorable reviews, salary increases, promotions, increased benefits, or continued
Using the University’s grievance process does not prohibit an employee or student from filing a complaint with these agencies. Each of the agencies has a time period for filing a claim: EEOC—300 days; MCAD—300 days.

Grievance Procedures for Students Claiming Unlawful Discrimination or Harassment, Including Sexual Harassment
Claims of harassment or discrimination are (1) claims of violation of the University’s non-discrimination policy, and (2) claims of violation of the University policy in opposition to harassment. Ordinarily, grievances, if they occur, are best dealt with informally and are ideally resolved quickly. Any student who feels that he/she has been unlawfully harassed or discriminated against should, if he/she feels comfortable, attempt to resolve the situation through a discussion with the other party. If that is not possible, the student should consult with the vice president for student affairs, or designee. The purpose of this consultation is multifold. The vice president for student affairs, or designee, will provide information and assistance to help the student resolve the problem independently, will help the student assess whether the behavior is harassing or discriminatory, will explain the University’s grievance procedure, and will provide guidance in the use of the formal grievance procedure.

Informal Grievance Procedure
The student may request that the vice president for student affairs, or designee, attempt to resolve the grievance informally. The request for an informal resolution must be made within 75 working days of the occurrence of the incident. If the student requests an informal resolution, the vice president for student affairs, or designee, will attempt to provide an informal resolution within 20 working days of receipt of the student’s request.

Formal Grievance Procedure
If the student requests a formal resolution, or if the grievance cannot be resolved informally within the stated time period, the following formal grievance procedure is used.

I. Where to File a Formal Complaint?
If the person alleged to be responsible for the alleged harassment or discriminatory activity is:
A. A Faculty Member—File with the dean of the appropriate school
B. An Administrator or Staff Member—File with the director of human resources
C. A Student, a Work-study Student, or a Graduate Assistant—File with the vice president for student affairs

II. What Should Be Filed?
The grievance should be in writing, should summarize the alleged discrimination or harassment, should identify the person allegedly responsible for the discrimination or harassment, and should describe the resolution sought.

III. When Should the Formal Grievance Be Filed?
The grievance should be filed within 75 working days of the occurrence of the alleged incident. A filing time of 110 working days from the occurrence of the alleged incident is allowed for claims that were unresolved at the informal level.

IV. How Will the Formal Grievance Be Processed?
A. If the person alleged to be responsible for the discrimination or harassment is a student, the vice president for student affairs or her designee will investigate the allegation.
B. If the person alleged to be responsible for the discrimination or harassment is a faculty member, the dean or his or her designee will investigate the allegation.
C. If the person alleged to be responsible for the discrimination or harassment is an administrator or staff member, the director of human resources or her designee will investigate the allegation.

The allegation will be investigated in a fair and expeditious manner. It will be conducted in such a way as to maintain confidentiality to the extent possible under the circumstances. The investigation will include a private interview with the person filing the grievance, the person alleged to have committed the harassment or discrimination, and witnesses, if appropriate. When the investigation is complete, to the extent appropriate, the person filing the complaint and the person alleged to have committed the conduct will be informed of the results of the investigation. A confidential written record of the investigation, including all documentary materials, will be maintained in a private file in the office of the official charged with the investigation. The entire investigation will be completed within 20 working days from the date the written grievance was received by the person responsible for the investigation.

If it is determined that discrimination or harassment has occurred, appropriate disciplinary action will be
V. What Is the Appeal Process?

If the student filing the grievance believes that the decision was substantially flawed by procedural error in the investigation or finds new information not known at the time of the investigation that is sufficient to alter the results of the investigation, he/she may request a review by the president, or designee. Likewise, if the complaint is brought against a student, if he/she believes that the decision was substantially flawed by procedural error in the investigation or finds new information not known at the time of the investigation that is sufficient to alter the results of the investigation, he/she may request a review by the president, or designee. The request for review by the president, or designee, must be made within 5 working days of receipt of the result of the investigation. The president, or designee, will review the written record and submit a written decision to both parties within 30 working days of receipt of the appeal.

Note: These procedures have been designed to provide a prompt resolution to a grievance. The steps in the procedures contain time limits measured in working days—the days when the administrative offices are regularly open for business. Weekends, holidays, snow days, and days when the University is closed for other reasons shall not be counted as working days. If the person investigating the complaint determines that additional working days are necessary to complete the investigation, he/she will notify the parties of the anticipated completion date of the investigation.

HARASSMENT (RELIGIOUS) NON-PROSLEYTIZING

Suffolk University does not tolerate any behavior that constitutes harassment on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, veteran’s status, sexual orientation, or disability. In light of this harassment policy, it is appropriate to further clarify that Suffolk University, its religious groups, and its religious coordinators are committed to mutual respect and nonproselytization.

Any form of religious harassment and manipulation is opposed, while the roles of personal freedom, doubt, and open critical reflection in healthy spiritual growth are affirmed. Religious harassment is constituted by coercive behavior that affects one’s personal freedom to choose one’s own religious practices.

POLICY AGAINST BIAS INCIDENTS AND HATE CRIMES

Introduction

Any time student members of the Suffolk University community feel belittled, disrespected, threatened, or unsafe because of who they are, the entire University community is diminished. This Policy Against Bias Incidents and Hate Crimes articulates the University’s position that bias incidents and hate crimes have no place at Suffolk University and will not be tolerated.

Definitions

Bias Incident: A bias incident is an act of conduct, speech, or expression to which a bias motive is evident as a contributing factor (regardless of whether the act is criminal). Bias incidents take many forms—words, signs, symbols, threats, or actions—and may take place in electronic or real-time contexts. They include intimidation, vandalism, destruction of property, or expressions of hate or hostility. They have an adverse impact on our learning environment that is inclusive of all. Bias incidents can cause alarm, anger, fear, or resentment in others or endanger the health, safety, or welfare of anyone in the University community. They are directed toward an individual or group because of their race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, or Vietnam-era or disabled veteran status.

Hate Crime: A hate crime is a criminal offense committed against a person, which is motivated in whole or in part by the alleged perpetrator’s bias against a race, religion, disability status, ethnicity/national origin, gender or sexual orientation.

Targeted Student or Group: A targeted student or group is an individual or group who believes or perceives that they have been the victim of a bias incident and/or hate crime based on their race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, or Vietnam-era or disabled veteran status.

Prohibited Conducts

Suffolk University does not tolerate any behavior that constitutes a bias incident and/or hate crime. Students found responsible for bias incidents and/or hate crimes are subject to disciplinary action. Such action may range from a warning or disciplinary probation to suspension or dismissal from the residence halls or the University.

Confidentiality

Targeted students, groups, individuals, or witnesses reporting an incident may self-identify or remain anonymous. Anonymous reporting, however, may impact the University’s ability to respond or pursue appropriate action against the alleged perpetrators. Information about an incident may be disclosed (i.e., the nature of the incident, the location of the incident, etc.) in the form of safety announcements, summary report updates, reports for disciplinary action, or as required by law.

Suffolk University understands that a student or group of students who has been the target of a bias incident or hate crime may wish to talk about the incident with the assurance that the discussion will be confidential. Confidentiality may not be assured when there is imminent risk of harm to the targeted student or group of students. Students may speak with staff members in the Counseling Center or the University chaplain confidentially for emotional support:

Counseling Center
73 Tremont Street, 5th floor
617.573.8226
www.suffolk.edu/offices/989.html

Amy Fisher, University Chaplain
Donahue Hall, 5th floor
617.573.8325
www.suffolk.edu/campuslife/1144.html

Because these services are, in most cases, confidential, a discussion with any of these sources will likely not result in a complaint being filed with the University or result in action being taken by the University to respond to the incident. A student who wants emotional support only should contact the confidential counseling resources listed above. A student wishing to have an incident investigated, mediated, or adjudicated must make a complaint in accordance with the procedures described below.

The University endeavors to respect and follow the wishes of a student or group of students who bring forward a bias incident concern. However, students should understand that Suffolk may have ethical and legal obligations to investigate, attempt to resolve, or adjudicate bias incidents that come to its attention and also may have obligations to report the matter to the local police department. Therefore, depending on the circumstances, it may not be possible for a conversation with Suffolk University Police, a Resident Assistant, or other administrators to be kept in confidence, or, said another way, for these individuals simply to listen without taking action.

RESPONDING TO A BIAS INCIDENT OR HATE CRIME

If a bias incident and/or hate crime is in the form of graffiti or other posting, it should not be removed or destroyed. SUPD should be called immediately at 617.573.8111. The graffiti or posting may be temporarily covered as long as the covering does not damage the graffiti or posting. SUPD will photograph the graffiti or posting and will contact Facilities to remove it.

Once a report of a bias incident and/or hate crime is received by the dean of students, the Bias Incident Response Team will be called together to immediately respond to the needs of the reporting party, as requested, and will take steps to respond to affected members of the Suffolk community, as appropriate. As soon as possible, the Bias Incident Response Team will determine initial response measures and identify additional campus resources to assist with the investigation of the incident or situation being addressed. The Bias Incident Response Team does not play a role in the investigation of alleged incident or render any decision concerning the responsibility of the parties involved.

Coordinated campus responses may include, but are not limited to, identification of and referral to appropriate support services and resources on- or off-campus, referral for disciplinary action for violations of the Community Standards or other University policies, informal resolution measures such as mediation, facilitated dialog between parties, discussions in residence halls or at other campus locations, recommendations for campus notices for fact sharing, and efforts towards wider educational awareness, prevention, and outreach.

The dean of students, or designee, will maintain a historical record of documented bias incidents and/or hate crimes reports that occur on campus or at college-sponsored events, programs, or activities off-campus. The Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990 (Title II of Public Law 101-542) requires universities to publish statistics on certain types of crimes, including hate crimes, that occur on University grounds and are reported to the Suffolk University Police or designated campus administrators. For annual crime statistics at Suffolk University, go to www.suffolk.edu/campuslife/3790.html.

If You Have Been a Target of a Bias Incident or a Hate Crime

If you believe that you may have been the target of a hate crime or bias-motivated offensive conduct, there are several steps you should follow:

- Seek medical attention if necessary, and call SUPD immediately at 617.573.8111 if you feel unsafe.
- Preserve any evidence and document the incident as thoroughly as possible (graffiti, phone call recording, e-mail message, letter, and so forth) by taking pictures, videotaping, and writing down everything you or witnesses remember. Keep the contact information of any witnesses.
- Report the incident to the appropriate authority. Anyone may report offensive conduct to:
  - SUPD at 617.573.8111
  - Dean of students at 617.573.8239
  - An RA or other Residence Life and Summer Programs staff member
- If you are not sure whether offensive conduct may be a hate crime, report it anyway. SUPD and the offices listed above will listen to you and provide any resources or services necessary, including a full investigation.
- It is best to report an incident as early as possible to facilitate the investigation. SUPD and the offices listed above will be able to refer you to a variety of helpful support resources both on and off campus. Please do not hesitate to request this information at any time. It is important to talk to someone if you experience or witness a bias incident or hate crime.

If You Have Been a Witness to a Bias Incident or a Hate Crime

Why it is important to report bias incidents and hate crimes? The police and the University need to know the number, type, and range of bias incidents and hate crimes that impact our community. Reporting these acts will help the University identify problem areas so that it can improve services that deal with this type of victimization. As a witness to a bias incident or hate crime, you have a unique opportunity to play a vital role in the internal and/or external justice system. By reporting the incident, you provide information that will help the University ensure that offenders answer for their offenses and will help resolve larger issues. The information you give by reporting any bias incident or hate crime you witness will:

- help bring the perpetrator to justice—this could prevent further occurrences and protect other Suffolk University community members;
- help you—you may find it beneficial to talk about what has happened and your feelings about it; and
- help the Suffolk University community—all such offenses have a negative effect on our community and should be pursued actively.

Call the Suffolk University Police at 617.573.8111, 24 hours a day, or contact a University official listed above if you feel you have witnessed a bias incident or hate crime. If the incident happened off campus, these same people can assist you with local authorities.

FAMILY EDUCATION RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (BUCKLEY AMENDMENT)

In accordance with the provisions of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (Section 438 of the General Education Provisions Act, 20. USC 1232g, commonly referred to as the “ Buckley Amendment” or “FERPA”), Suffolk University has adopted the following procedures to protect the privacy rights of its students. FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. Education records are defined as records directly related to a student and maintained by the institution or by a party acting for the institution. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review your education records (with certain limited exceptions) within 45 days of the day Suffolk University receives your request for access. You should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, identifying the records you wish to inspect. The Registrar’s Office will make arrangements for access and notify you of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of your education records if you believe them to be inaccurate. You should submit any such request to the Registrar’s Office in writing, identifying the reasons you believe them to be inaccurate. The Registrar’s Office will notify you of its decision and, if the decision is negative, of your right to a hearing regarding your request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to you at that time.

3. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Suffolk University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:
4. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in your education records, except to the extent FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One such exception permits Suffolk University to disclose personally identifiable information in education records to “school officials” with “legitimate educational interests.” A “school official” is any person employed by Suffolk University in any administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position; any person or company with whom Suffolk University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); any person serving on Suffolk University’s Board of Trustees; or any student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his/her tasks. A school official has a “legitimate educational interest” if the official needs to review an educational record in order to fulfill the official’s professional responsibility.

Another exception permits Suffolk University to disclose your “directory information” to anyone within the Suffolk University community and to the general public. Suffolk University has designated the following as directory information: name, address, e-mail address, telephone listing, photograph, date and place of birth, grade level, enrollment status, dates of attendance, major field of study, degrees, honors and awards received, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, height and weight of members of athletic teams, and the most recent educational agency or institution attended. All other student information will not be released to students, parents, or outside agencies unless accompanied by a written release of information, signed by the student, which complies with the requirements of FERPA, unless the disclosure of information is authorized by FERPA.

Students may request that directory information not be released to any person without their prior written consent by completing a Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information form, available in the Registrar’s Office. Students may give such notification at any time, but it will be effective only prospectively.

Suffolk University also discloses education records without a student’s consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. Information on other exceptions authorizing Suffolk University to disclose education records without a student’s consent is available through the Registrar’s Office.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY
JOINT STATEMENT ON RIGHTS, FREEDOMS, AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF STUDENTS

As approved with amendments by the Student Government Association, the Evening Division Student Association, the dean of students, the Joint Council on Student Affairs, and the faculty of the Colleges in March 1977.

Approved by the full Board of Trustees on April 13, 1977, and printed in full in the April 29, 1977, issue of The Suffolk Journal. Drafted from a document approved by the Council of the American Association of University Professors, the US National Student Association, the Association of American Colleges, the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, and the National Association of Women in Education. The following Joint Statement on Rights, Freedoms, and Responsibilities of Students of the College of Arts and Sciences and the Sawyer Business School was approved by the Suffolk University Board of Trustees on April 13, 1977, and replaced the former code of justice.

Suffolk University exists for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of its students, and the well-being of society.

A community devoted to free inquiry and free expression of opinion is indispensable to the attainment of these ends. The standards of academic freedom and responsibility set forth below represent the guiding principles for the attainment of these goals.

The principle of academic freedom applies equally to students and faculty and can only exist if the University environment provides for the constructive interaction between them. In the teaching-learning process, the faculty must be willing to have their ideas and understanding challenged by the students. However, students must recognize the scholarship of the faculty and be willing to work under their guidance.

Both students and faculty have academic responsibilities and each must recognize that the responsibilities of one affect the rights and privileges of the other.

I. Freedom of Access to Higher Education

Suffolk University is an academic community open to persons of all sexes, races, creeds, and countries of natural origin. Suffolk University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, veteran status, age, disability, gender identity, gender expression, or Vietnam-era or disabled-veteran status in its admissions and employment policies or in the administration and operation of all its programs and activities. Admission to the University is determined by institutional policies concerning the academic and personal qualifications and expectations of the students who apply for entrance. It is the University’s responsibility to provide full and complete information concerning the criteria to be applied in consideration of candidates for admission. Within the limits of its facilities, Suffolk University is open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards.

II. Student Rights in Academic Evaluations

It is the responsibility of faculty members at Suffolk University, during all academic contacts with students, to encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Student performance should be evaluated solely on an academic basis, and student opinion on matters unrelated to the academic course material should not be considered in evaluating student work in class.

A. Protection of Freedom of Expression

Suffolk University students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion. Whatever the student’s view as to the course material offered, the student is responsible for learning the content of any course of study in which the student is enrolled.

B. Protection against Improper Academic Evaluation

Suffolk University students are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled. A student who believes that an academic evaluation has no basis in fact or is arbitrary should bring this to the attention of the instructor and to the department chairperson and, if unsatisfied after a conference, may raise the issue with the vice president for student affairs, whose recommendation shall be considered by the academic dean of the college in which the course if offered, whose decision shall be final.

C. Protection against Improper Use of Disclosure

Suffolk University faculty members will maintain the confidentiality... of private statements made by a student that set forth or reveal the student's views, beliefs, and political associations. Faculty members will not consider any such private statement in connection with the evaluation of a student's academic performance.

III. Student Records

Suffolk University maintains its student records in compliance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

IV. Student Activities and Affairs

In the conduct of their lives outside the classrooms, the students of Suffolk University have certain specific rights and responsibilities, which are set forth below.

A. Freedom of Association

Students bring to the campus a variety of previously acquired interests and develop many new interests as members of this academic community. They should be free to organize and join associations in order to promote their common interests.

1. The membership, policies, and actions of a student organization may be determined only by a vote of those persons currently enrolled as students at Suffolk University.

2. Affiliation with an extramural organization will not, of itself, ordinarily disqualify a student organization from institutional recognition.

3. Where campus advisors are required for recognition, a student organization will be free to choose its own advisor. It is the role of the campus advisor to provide guidance and counsel to student organizations in the exercise of their responsibilities. Campus advisors do not have the authority to control the policy of student organizations.

4. Student organizations will not be permitted to use Suffolk University facilities nor to participate as members of the academic community without having been officially recognized by the University.

B. Freedom of Inquiry and Expression

1. The students of Suffolk University and the organizations recognized by the University shall be free to examine and discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly and privately on those questions. Students and student organizations shall be free to support causes by orderly means that do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the academic community. When acting or expressing views on topics of interest to them, student members of the Suffolk University community shall make it clear to all members of the academic and larger community that, in their public expressions or demonstrations, the students and student organizations speak for themselves alone and do not, unless otherwise authorized, represent the University.

2. Suffolk University students may invite any person of their own choosing to speak before them and before student organizations. The University, however, maintains procedures to ensure the orderly scheduling of facilities, the adequate preparation of an event, and that the occasion is conducted in a manner appropriate to the academic community. Violation of these procedures is a breach of the responsibilities of membership to the community. Whenever a student or student group invites a speaker to appear, the student group is responsible for informing the academic and larger communities that sponsorship of the speaker's talk does not imply University approval or endorsement of the views expressed by the speaker.

C. Student Participation in Institutional Government

As constituents of the Suffolk University academic community, students are free, individually and collectively, to express their views on issues of institutional policy and on matters of interest to the student body. The University will respect the rights of its students to participate in the internal governance of the University.

D. Student Publications and Broadcasting Systems

1. Student publications, the student broadcasting system, and the student press are all valuable aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration on campus. They are means of bringing student concerns to the attention of the faculty and the institutional authorities and of formulating student opinion on various issues on the campus and in the world at large.

2. Whereas financial and legal autonomy is not possible, Suffolk University, as the publisher of student publications, may have to bear the legal responsibility for the contents of the publication. In the delegation of editorial responsibility to students, Suffolk University must provide sufficient editorial freedom and financial autonomy for the student publications to maintain their integrity of purpose as vehicles for free inquiry and free expression in the academic community.

3. Institutional authorities, in consultation with students and faculty, have a responsibility to provide written explanation of the role of student publications, the standards to be used in their evaluation, and the limitations on external control of their operation.

4. As the editorial freedom entrusted to student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities, their conduct is expected to comply to their best intent with the high standards of the code of ethics of Sigma Delta Chi (the Society of Professional Journalists).

5. The relationship between the University and its student publications... will be governed by the following general standards and supplemental guidelines interpreting them:

a. The student press should be free of censorship and advance approval of copy, and its editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage.

b. Editors and managers of student publications and broadcasting systems should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative, or public disapproval of editorial policy or content. Editors and managers should only be subject to removal for proper stated causes, and then only by orderly and prescribed procedures.

c. In the event that student editors or managers, through their willful failure to comply with the code of ethics of Sigma Delta Chi, expose the University to risk of financial loss, they may be censured or removed from office.

d. No such determination shall be made unless the agency responsible for the appointment of editors (the Publications Selection Committee) determines such action is necessary.

6. The Publications Selection Committee

COMMUNITY STANDARDS AND STUDENT CONDUCT SYSTEM

Introduction
Suffolk University has established the Community Standards to promote and maintain an academic environment that is consistent with the mission of the University. The Student Conduct System addresses alleged violations of the Community Standards. Students are expected to carefully review the Community Standards outlined in this handbook and are required to comply with the Community Standards. Students will be held accountable for violations. Sanctions will range from a warning to removal from University housing to dismissal from the University to the withholding or revocation of a degree. Minimum sanctions have been established for certain violations.

Information on how to access the Student Conduct System is available at the Student Affairs Office and in the Student Handbook at www.suffolk.edu/studenthandbook.

Guiding Principles of the Community Standards and the Student Conduct System
To enter Suffolk University is to accept an invitation to participate in a learning environment in which students are educated to become lifelong learners as well as professionals who lead and serve the communities in which they live and work. Choosing to become a member of this community requires members to respect and contribute to a genuine community of student, faculty, and staff learners who are mutually supportive and respectful. By voluntarily choosing to affiliate themselves with Suffolk University, students acknowledge, accept, and agree to comply with the responsibilities outlined in the Community Standards.

The Suffolk University community holds high expectations of how members live and interact with one another. Respect for oneself and respect for others lie at the heart of the Community Standards. Since its inception in 1906 as the Suffolk School of Law, the University has supported and encouraged diversity in a challenging, supportive environment for motivated and capable students from various backgrounds and cultures. As such, the Suffolk University Community Standards established for student members of the Suffolk community are not always exactly the same as those standards that apply to individuals within society at large. Students are accountable for their actions as a necessary part of community life. The University’s Community Standards go beyond what is simply required for public order.

Suffolk University has sought to educate students who—as leaders in law, business, and professional and civic life—will live by the highest intellectual and ethical standards. In search of this ideal, Suffolk strives to create an environment in which learning is a shared responsibility that is pursued in classrooms, studios, and laboratories; internships and study abroad programs; co-curricular and extra-curricular activities; athletic fields; residence halls; and the city of Boston and beyond.

The Suffolk University Community Standards and other policies are intended to contribute to the education and growth of student members of the campus community. The University will hold students accountable for their actions as a necessary part of community life.

Violation of Law and College Discipline

Student conduct may violate federal, state, or local law and/or the Suffolk University Community Standards. Violations may be addressed through the Student Conduct System, the civil or criminal court system, or both. When student conduct may have violated federal, state, or local law, Suffolk University may take action against a student through the Student Conduct System prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings at the discretion of the dean of students, or designee.

Determinations made or sanctions imposed under the Student Conduct System will not be subject to change when civil or criminal charges regarding the same incident are resolved in favor of or against the civil or criminal law defendant.

If the University proceeds with the Student Conduct System when civil and/or criminal proceedings are taking place, then a student is charged with a civil or criminal violation of federal, state, or local law, the student is responsible for all costs associated with the civil or criminal proceeding.

If the alleged offense is also being processed under the Student Conduct System, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Community Standards and Student Conduct System and of how such matters are typically handled within the University community.

The University cooperates with law enforcement or other agencies in the enforcement of civil or criminal law on campus and with any conditions that may be imposed by civil or criminal courts, including, but not limited to, those related to the rehabilitation of student violators, provided the conditions do not conflict with campus rules or sanctions.

Jurisdiction

The Suffolk University Community Standards and Student Conduct System apply to the conduct of any student or individual:

- who is enrolled in or accepted for an academic course or program regardless of credits carried;
- who withdraws from the University after allegedly violating the Community Standards; or
- who is not officially enrolled for a particular term but who either was admitted to or who has a continuing academic relationship with the University.

The Suffolk University Community Standards and Student Conduct System also apply to any student organization.

The Community Standards and Student Conduct System apply to conduct that occurs on University premises, at University-sponsored activities, during all programs such as internships and study abroad, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the University community or the pursuit of its objectives, or calls into question the suitability of a student as a member of the Suffolk University community.

Each student is responsible for his/her conduct from the time of acceptance of admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though the conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year or during periods between terms of actual enrollment, and even if the conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded.
The Community Standards and Student Conduct System apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from the University while a complaint is pending.

The dean of students, or designee, will decide, on a case-by-case basis, whether the Community Standards and Student Conduct System will be applied to conduct occurring off campus.

Students are responsible for the consequences of their actions even when the conduct may have been influenced by their physical or emotional state.

Students are responsible for the consequences of their actions even when the conduct may have been influenced by their use of alcohol or other drugs.

A disciplinary hold may be placed on a student's educational record when a student does not respond to the request of a University representative to attend an administrative hearing, does not comply with a discipline sanction, or withdraws from the University prior to the resolution of a complaint.

Students with a disciplinary hold may not be permitted to register for courses, receive a diploma, add or drop courses, or participate in other University activities.

If a student fails to pay a discipline fine by the due date, the fine and any penalties may be added to the student's account. Policies for the payment of student accounts are managed by the Bursar's Office.

Revocation of Admission or Degree: Admission to the University or a degree awarded from the University may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation, or other violation of the Community Standards in obtaining the degree or for other serious violations committed by a student prior to graduation.

Withholding Degree: The University may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the disciplinary process set forth in the Student Conduct System, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.

Student Organization Recognition in Jeopardy: A warning that if the student organization is found responsible for violating the Community Standards during a specified period of time, the student organization’s recognition may be immediately revoked.

Loss of Recognition: During a specified period of time, a recognized student organization may not associate itself with the University by using the University name, facilities, or other rights and privileges of recognized student organizations, after which the organization may reapply for recognition. There is no guarantee re-recognition will be granted. If re-recognition is granted, conditions for re-recognition may be specified.

Other sanctions may be imposed instead of or in addition to those specified above. In addition to the above sanctions, student conduct that warrants action within the Student Conduct System may result in forfeiture of all Suffolk scholarships, financial aid, or monies paid.

More than one of the sanctions listed above may be imposed for any single violation.

Appeals of Decisions and Sanctions Resulting from Administrative Hearings
A charged student or victim of a charged student’s misconduct may submit one request for an appeal of the decision resulting from an administrative hearing no later than two (2) business days after the date of the determination letter. A request for an appeal is to be submitted in writing to the hearing officer who heard the case, who will then forward the appeal request to the dean of students, or designee, for assignment to an impartial hearing officer for review.

Appeals will be considered only for failure to follow the process or procedures outlined in the Student Conduct System or if new information not available at the time of the hearing is now available. Students must include a statement of why the additional information should be considered and why it was not presented at the time of the original hearing. An appeal is not a new hearing on the matter. Disagreement with the sanction is not grounds for an appeal.

The impartial hearing officer will:
- Determine whether the appeal request merits a formal appeal hearing and, if so, schedule an appeal hearing. An appeal is not a new hearing on the matter;
- Determine there are no grounds for the appeal, thus upholding the decision; or
- Refer the case to the hearing officer who originally heard the case for consideration of suggestions.

Appellate decisions are final.

Interim Restrictions
The dean of students, or designee, may impose restriction(s) upon a student pending disciplinary proceedings. Interim restrictions become effective immediately without prior notice whenever the dean of students, or designee, believes the student may pose a serious threat to oneself, others, or property, or cause serious disruption to the University community.

Interim restrictions may include suspension from the University or residence areas; relocation of residence; restriction to designated University residence areas or other campus facilities by time or location; restriction of communication with named individuals or groups within the University community; or the requirement to obtain advance authorization to engage in a specified activity or any other restrictions the dean of students, or designee, determines are appropriate under the circumstances. Interim restrictions will remain in effect during the pendency of a hearing and/or appeal.

Discipline Records
Discipline records are educational records and are maintained in the Student Affairs and Residence Life and Summer Programs offices.

Discipline records are maintained by the Student Affairs and Residence Life and Summer Programs offices for at least seven (7) years from the date of the incident.

In situations involving both a charged student and a student who believes he/she was the victim of a student’s misconduct, the records of the process and of the sanctions imposed, if any, will be considered to be the educational records of both the charged student and the alleged student victim because the educational career and chances of success in the academic community of each may be affected.

Interpretation and Revision
Any question of interpretation or application of the Community Standards and Student Conduct System will be referred to the dean of students, or designee, for final determination.

The Community Standards and Student Discipline System will be reviewed at least every two (2) years under the direction of the dean of students, or designee. As a result, the next scheduled review of the Community Standards and Student Discipline System will be held during the 2012–2013 academic year.
Basketball: Men and Women
The basketball programs are the longest running programs in the Athletics Department. Each fall, the squads welcome both talented returning and rookie players to join forces in building competitive teams. Both the men’s and women’s teams have consistently qualified for the GNAC playoffs and have competed in the ECAC and NCAA post-season championships in recent years.

Cross-Country: Men and Women
The harriers of Suffolk University compete in the fall of each year in invitational meets as well as the NCAA and ECAC regional championships. The Charles River running path provides a convenient and picturesque setting for training runs.

Ice Hockey
The University team practices and plays at Boston University’s Walter Brown Arena and the nearby Sterretti Skating Rink in Boston’s historic North End.

Soccer: Men and Women
The soccer teams kick off their seasons at the start of the academic year with practice sessions at nearby municipal fields. The increasing popularity of soccer has brought many talented athletes to Suffolk, and the international unity among the players on both teams makes for a rich playing experience.

Softball
Women’s softball has become a highly competitive program in the GNAC. A pre-season conditioning and competition trip to Florida is a spring tradition. The North End’s Puopolo Field serves as the Rams’ home field, offering a picturesque view of Boston Harbor and the USS Constitution.

Tennis: Men and Women
Women’s matches are played in the fall semester while the men compete in the spring. This past fall, our women’s team achieved perfection as they compiled a remarkable 14 victories in 14 matches, culminating with...
The Ballotti Learning Center (BLC) is an on-campus resource focused on empowering all Suffolk University students to reach their highest academic potential. This goal is achieved by:

• Assisting students in making connections with fellow students, faculty, and staff through academic support services and programs.

• Enabling students to connect the knowledge and skills they have developed with new ideas, concepts, and experiences they encounter throughout their academic career.

• Offering programs and services designed for students who want to improve their GPA, learn new study techniques, better understand particular subject material, and utilize their time more effectively.

The BLC is open 9am–5pm, Monday through Friday. Evening tutoring hours and updated study group schedules are posted each semester on the BLC Web site. The following services are available at the center.

Academic Coaching

Academic coaches work individually with students to assess their needs, set goals, and develop an action plan. Like athletic coaches, they guide, encourage, and challenge students as they monitor their progress. Academic coaching can help students boost their GPA, develop more effective study strategies, identify areas needing improvement, develop an effective time management system, get off academic probation, and more.

Peer Tutor Program

Tutors provide peer instruction in strategies for time management, exam preparation, text comprehension, note taking, learning style analysis, and so on as they apply to current course work. Peer tutoring is appropriate for any student, undergraduate or graduate, who desires to develop strategies to understand content more effectively and efficiently.

Study Groups

Study group sessions are offered for targeted, challenging classes. Student group leaders model techniques and strategies for understanding course content in weekly review sessions. A list of study group times and locations are available on the BLC Web site.

Workshops

Academic workshops are offered weekly in the BLC and cover topics such as critical note taking, plagiarism, exam preparation, and self-management. Workshops use the latest research on the brain and are tailored around how students learn best—they are informative, practical, engaging, and interactive. For a schedule of upcoming workshops or to request an in-class presentation, see the BLC Web site.

University Achievement Program (UAP)

The University Achievement Program is designed to help conditionally accepted students successfully navigate their first year of college and build a foundation for long-term academic achievement. Students in the University Achievement Program enroll in SU101 during the fall semester and SU102 during the spring semester. Students in the program work closely with UAP staff members to develop and implement an individualized academic plan. UAP students also participate in campus activities, volunteer with community organizations, and experience local cultural events.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

The College-Level Examination Program allows students to receive college credit and demonstrate knowledge by earning qualifying scores on subject-specific exams. Exams are given on specific dates throughout the year, and pre-registration is required. To learn more about the CLEP Credit Granting Policy, pricing, and exam dates at Suffolk, visit the BLC Web site.

The Early Alert Program

This University-wide collaborative program, coordinated by the BLC, is designed to provide early feedback and support to undergraduate students who are experiencing academic difficulty in one or more courses. Students identified by faculty in the sixth week of classes receive individual outreach from a variety of support services and are strongly encouraged to access resources to help them complete the semester successfully.

Academic Improvement (AIM) Program

AIM provides support, strategies, and resources to help students take control of their academic life and succeed. AIM participants meet in small groups with trained instructors to target common challenges. In addition, instructors work individually with students to identify specific areas needing improvement and to develop a plan tailored for each student’s success. Students can register for an AIM seminar through MySuffolk on Campus Cruiser under BLC–AIM courses.

New England School of Art and Design (NESAD)

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION
Location: 73 Tremont Street, 6th Floor
Web site: www.suffolk.edu/international

International Student Advising
Tel: 617.573.8154
Email: oia@suffolk.edu

The Office of International Advising (OIA) administers the F-1 student and J-1 student/scholar visa programs for the University. The immigration advisors offer assistance with Department of Homeland Security and Department of State regulations related to maintaining student/scholar immigration status, including the procedures for travel outside of and re-entry to the United States, obtaining employment authorization, and determining full-time enrollment requirements. The OIA issues the immigration forms I-20 and DS-2019 to qualified students and scholars. The advisors are also happy to assist with issues related to adjusting to life in the United States. Upon arrival, all international students, including transfer students from other US universities, must attend the orientation offered by the Center for International Education. This session allows students to register their immigration documents and local address with the office and receive detailed information about immigration regulations. Late-arriving students who miss orientation must visit the OIA to register their immigration documents and local address consistent with federal regulations. International students are encouraged to visit the OIA frequently during their time at Suffolk to ensure that all immigration requirements are being met.

Please note that the Department of Homeland Security holds individual students, not the University, responsible for knowing and meeting all of the requirements for F-1 or J-1 immigration status. To avoid immigration difficulties, students must bring any problems, concerns, or grounds for confusion promptly to the attention of the OIA staff. Failure to follow immigration regulations can make it impossible for international students to remain in the United States.

To facilitate easy access to accurate immigration advice, the OIA offers advising services on a walk-in basis three days per week. Individual appointments are also available. In addition, the OIA staff sends regular immigration updates to the Suffolk e-mail account of each F-1 and J-1 international student.

Note: International students should expect a minimum processing time of five business days for preparation of new immigration documents for travel, employment, or other status issues.

upperclassmen and graduate students and span the fall, spring, and summer semesters, from the first week of classes through final exams.

Mathshop
Mathshop is a non-credit, full-semester workshop designed for students who need substantial review before starting Math 104 or 121. Similar to a course, Mathshop meets three hours per week throughout the semester. Mathshop systematically covers the fundamentals of mathematics, such as arithmetic with signed numbers, fractions, decimals, percentages, basic algebra, and solving equations. Study skills and strategies for dealing with math anxiety are also discussed.

The Mathematics Placement Exam
Students entering Suffolk University come from various schools, countries, and programs that differ greatly in the kind and level of mathematics courses provided. Due to these diverse mathematics backgrounds, it is difficult for students to select courses and for advisors to provide guidance. To assist in this process, the MSC staff administers and grades a mathematics placement exam. This exam is given to all incoming freshmen and transfer students during each orientation period. A packet of sample problems is mailed to incoming students in time for them to study for the exam. The placement exam provides a snapshot of your understanding of basic math concepts and your grasp of the math skills needed to take our courses. We use the Accuplacer exam, produced by the College Board. You will not need a calculator for this exam. On problems for which a calculator may be used, a “pop-up” calculator will appear on the screen. Remember, the goal of the exam is to increase your chances of success at Suffolk by placing you in a math course for which you have adequate preparation.

STUDENT GOVERNANCE AND REPRESENTATIVE ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association (SGA) is your voice on campus. It is the representative body for undergraduate students. SGA focuses on issues that affect students academically, financially, and co-curricularly. The goal of student government is to be the major channel of communication for students to voice their opinions and ideas to the faculty, administration, and trustees. The SGA comprises seven senators from each respective class. Elections for sophomore, junior, and senior positions are held in the middle of February. Elections for freshman positions are held in the beginning of October. Any full-time undergraduate student in good academic standing may run for office. After the spring elections, the new officers in each class elect an executive board that oversees the daily progression of student government.

One of SGA’s most important responsibilities is managing the budget, which includes your student activity fee. The budget is used to finance the activities of all SGA-recognized clubs and organizations.

There are more than just elected positions on the SGA, which is comprised of several committees that deal with a wide range of issues. These include the Student Affairs Committee, which examines student concerns; Public Relations, which informs the community of SGA activities and promotes awareness; Academics, which keeps students informed of changes in policies and academics in each school; the Housing and Facilities Committee, which deals with concerns about the residence halls and physical property of the University; and the Finance Committee, which ensures a just system of funding the recognized student organizations of Suffolk University. Its mission is to give student clubs and organizations the opportunity to provide the Suffolk University community with a wide array of programming and events.

The SGA is an important element at the University. It improves the quality of life while teaching leadership, professional, and interpersonal skills that last a lifetime. If you would like to be involved in SGA or have any concerns that you would like to see addressed, please call 617.573.8322 and talk to your representatives, or visit www.suffolk.edu/sga.

Program Council

The purpose of the Program Council is to coordinate and plan a variety of social, educational, and cultural events for the Suffolk community. The Program Council consists of an executive board and general members. Programming committees are open to all undergraduate students. Ideas and/or helping hands for any of the events are always welcome. The Program Council offers a very relaxed and enjoyable experience for students interested in planning activities throughout the year.

TIKTET POLICY FOR EVENTS

When purchasing tickets for events, you must present your valid Suffolk ID. Tickets for most events can be purchased at the Hub Information Center, located in the Sagan Lobby, Donahue Building. There are no refunds for purchased tickets, and tickets must be purchased with cash or a RAM card.

Tickets are non-transferable. Tickets for off-campus events must be purchased in advance. There will be no tickets sold at the door for events held at a venue off-campus.

GUEST POLICY FOR EVENTS

When allowed, all guests attending Suffolk events must present a picture ID to the Suffolk police at the door. In addition, the Suffolk student hosting the guest must be present at the door. It will be the responsibility of the Suffolk student to act appropriately and he/she will be held responsible for his/her guest’s behavior. Inappropriate behavior will be reported to the vice president for student affairs for disciplinary action. The guest policy is a general policy for student clubs/organizations. Exceptions may be made on a case-by-case basis by the director of Student Leadership and Involvement.

POSTING POLICY

It is the responsibility of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement to ensure that advertising in administrative and academic buildings is appropriate, effective, and not redundant. For those reasons, the following policies apply:

- All posters and flyers posted on unrestricted* campus bulletin boards must be stamped by a staff member in the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will keep one copy of each advertisement for its records.

- A maximum of 50 posters or flyers will be stamped per event for a registered student organization or University department. The stamped materials should be distributed among all administrative and academic buildings throughout campus—including NESAD, whose flyers may be sent via campus mail.

- Unrestricted bulletin boards are those NOT enclosed in a glass casing or designated by a department.For non-Suffolk organizations or sponsored events, the maximum amount of flyers posted is five (5) and they must be stamped. This amount will allow at least one advertisement on every bulletin board in the Archer, Donahue, Fenton, Ridgeway, and Sawyer Buildings.

Please note the following:

- It is the responsibility of the organization or club to post and remove its own flyers at the determined date.

- Posters and flyers cannot be posted on any restricted bulletin boards, windows, doors, or within elevators or bathrooms. If found, they will be removed.

- If alcohol will be served at an event, the advertisement shall not mention the availability of alcoholic beverages.

- University-affiliated departments and groups cannot post posters larger than 2x3 feet on bulletin boards.

- Non-University groups cannot post posters larger than 8x11 inches on bulletin boards.

- DO NOT post your advertisements over the advertisements of other departments or organizations. If no space is available on a particular board, you must wait until space opens up before posting your flyers. Advertisements posted over the advertisements of another group will be removed.

- Flyers may not be posted anywhere in the Sawyer Lobby (upper or lower).

- A limit of three easels may be displayed in the Donahue Lobby and Sawyer Lower Lobby. For accessibility reasons, no easels are allowed in the Sawyer Upper Lobby. Posters on easels must be approved by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement. To display in the Sawyer Lobby, please contact Alisa Berman at 617.573.8301.
All publicity copy must include the following (as applicable):

1. Full name and contact information of the sponsoring organization(s)
2. Nature of the program/short description of the event
3. Date, time, location of program/event, and availability of transportation (or directions) if off-campus
4. Admission criteria, if necessary, such as ticket price or Suffolk University ID requirement
5. Rain dates and refund policy, if applicable

In order to keep our advertising practices fair and consistent for all groups, the staff of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will monitor the campus bulletin boards to ensure that these policies are being followed. An organization that consistently violates these policies will have its advertising rights restricted.

Locations of Bulletin Boards

All organizations are asked to distribute no more than 50 flyers evenly throughout the six main administrative buildings. The following distribution is recommended:

- Archer Building—9
- Donahue Building—12
- Fenton Building (and annex)—15
- Sawyer Building—31
- Ridgeway Building—9
- NESAD—5

For your convenience, please keep in mind that we are happy to send NESAD and residence hall flyers through inter-office mail for posting.

Lobby Easel Use

In an effort to increase awareness and publicity of ongoing programs and services, the use of easels in Suffolk building lobbies has grown tremendously. To help alleviate the congestion caused by numerous easels in the Sagan Lobby of the Donahue Building, we ask that the Suffolk community adhere to the following guidelines:

1. Please call the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement to reserve an easel space.
2. No more than three easels are to be used in lobbies.
3. Easels should not be used to advertise ongoing or generic services. They must be used for dated events.
4. Easels may not block access to The Hub or its surroundings, elevators, door or entrance ways, and/or egress or emergency exits. ADA concerns must also be taken into consideration.
5. Easels must be used for advertisements sized 24 1/2L x 18 1/2W and over. All easels must contain information required for flyers in the posting policy.
6. In the event the number of requested easels exceeds the maximum of three, priority will be given to advertising those events scheduled to occur within the following week.

Lobby Video Presentations

In an effort to maintain a welcoming environment in an open access area, video presentations must be informational and, when issue-oriented, must present both sides. Student organizations should have considered all copyright issues associated with public viewing of videos. In addition, videos must use appropriate language and be suitable for presentation in a public area at the discretion of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement. Student organizations must submit requests and obtain approval to show issue-oriented videos from their program advisor in advance of securing lobby space. If approval is obtained, volume must be kept at minimal levels at all times.

FINANCES

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY students are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress in order to receive any form of financial assistance. Satisfactory progress is evaluated at the end of each academic term by Student Financial Services in conjunction with the Academic Standing Committee of each school.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Requirements

During the first two years of enrollment (full- or part-time), undergraduate students are required to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 1.8.

After two years of enrollment, undergraduate students are required to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Graduate students are required to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Students must successfully complete at least 75 percent of attempted credits. For example, a student who registered for a total of 60 credits would be required to successfully complete at least 45 credits. Courses in which grades of W, L, Fail, or I are received will be counted as not successfully completed.

When a student receives a final grade for a course that was previously incomplete, the GPA and completion rate can be recalculated on request. The student will be considered to have maintained satisfactory academic progress during the semester that the final grade was received.

The Academic Standing Committee and Student Financial Services will review each student’s progress at the end of each semester. Students not meeting the minimum satisfactory academic progress requirements are placed on probation for one semester. During the probation period, the student will

At Suffolk, we believe a quality education should be available to every student, regardless of his/her economic circumstances. We back that up with a broad range of financial aid solutions—including scholarships, grants, loans, and work-study opportunities. Most are based on demonstrated need, others on merit.

Sources of Funding

Federal programs offer students grants, low-interest loans, and employment programs. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts awards loans and grants to state residents who demonstrate financial need. The University, along with private agencies and organizations, awards scholarships and grants to students when their personal and family resources cannot meet the cost of higher education. Merit-based funding is also available through select programs.

General Financial Aid Requirements

Most awards are limited to students enrolled full-time, but we encourage any undergraduate or graduate student enrolled in a degree or certificate program for at least six credit hours to apply for financial aid consideration. A student must also be in good academic standing, make satisfactory academic progress, and not have defaulted on previous education loans.

Undergraduate students enrolled in only three credits per semester may apply for a Federal Pell Grant.

International students are ineligible for all forms of federal/state aid; however, international students are considered for numerous institutionally funded merit-based grants and employment programs at the time of admission.

Suffolk University students are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress in order to receive any form of financial assistance. Satisfactory progress is evaluated at the end of each academic term by Student Financial Services in conjunction with the Academic Standing Committee of each school.

Students with a balance from a prior term will not be permitted to register, receive a transcript/grade report, or have a degree conferred. University policy precludes the use of any current financial aid for payment of past-due charges.

Tuition Liability

Tuition liability is based on the date that the withdrawal form is received by the Student Affairs Office or the drop form is received by the Office of the Registrar. Refer to the chart listed below for Suffolk University’s prorated withdrawal policy.

If the drop occurs, or your withdrawal form is received and approved by the Student Affairs Office:

- Through second week of classes: 0%
- Third week of classes: 50%
- Fourth week of classes: 75%
- After fourth week of classes: 100%

For special short courses, workshops, and institutes, please visit www.suffolk.edu/bursar for withdrawal dates.

International students holding F-1 or J-1 immigration status must also visit the immigration services staff at the Center for International Education to discuss withdrawal aspects of withdrawal from the University. Generally, students cannot remain in the United States after their withdrawal.

Withdrawal, Leave of Absence, or Drop Refund Policy

Tuition liability is assessed according to the date that the leave of absence/withdrawal form is received by the Student Affairs Office or the drop form is received by the Office of the Registrar.

Non-attendance does not constitute official withdrawal or dropping of a course.

Reasonable collection costs, including attorney fees, will be added to delinquent accounts. All tuition charges are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees. Any such change may be applicable to students already enrolled in the University.

Refund Policy for Financial Aid Recipients/Return of Title IV Funds (Federal Funds)

When a student officially withdraws from the University, federal regulations require the institution to prorate the financial aid awarded based on the percentage of the term completed. Once 60 percent of the term is over, the student is eligible to receive 100 percent of his/her aid awarded. If a student does not officially withdraw from the University and fails to complete all classes, the student is eligible for only 50 percent of the aid awarded. However, the student may be charged 100 percent of all applicable tuition costs, fees, and so on. Questions on applicable charges should be directed to the bursar.

In accordance with federal regulations, whenever a student’s withdrawal requires the return of financial aid, the funds will be distributed in the following order:

1. Unsubsidized Federal Stafford/Direct
2. Subsidized Federal Stafford/Direct
3. Federal PLUS/Direct
4. Federal Perkins
5. Federal Pell Grant
6. Federal SEOG
7. Other Title IV programs

Return of State Funds

The Massachusetts state financial aid programs follow the same refund policy as the Title IV programs. However, if a student has a tuition liability due to the return of Title IV funds, state funds may be retained to cover such liability.

Tuition Insurance

As a supplement to the University’s refund policy, we offer an insurance program, the Tuition Refund Plan (TRP), through A.W.G. Dewar, Inc. This plan enhances the University’s refund schedule and provides more generous refunds throughout the entire term. If you withdraw from classes due to your own personal physical illness or accident, this plan will return 100 percent of your insured tuition and fees. If your withdrawal results from a personal medical psychological illness, 60 percent of your insured tuition and fees will be refunded. Please contact A.W.G. Dewar, Inc., at 617.774.1555 or you can access their Web site at www.collegerefund.com for more information or to apply.
